Chancellor of Exchequer Announces Committee Will Be Named to Investigate Complaints of Ex-Servicemen as to the Salaries They Are Receiving.

SESSION OPENS IN TENSE ATMOSPHERE

Sitting of House Last Night Broken Up in Row Over Matter—Blows Struck and "Red Flag" Was Sung During the Disorders.

LONDON, April 12.—The Government today bowed to the will of the opposition in the House of Commons on the question of the treatment of war veterans, which brought about the defeat of a snap division Tuesday. The Chancellor of the Exchequer announced that a committee would be appointed to investigate the grievances of the ex-servicemen in regard to the salaries they are receiving in the individual service.

The proceedings opened in a tense atmosphere, but there were no indications in the early stages of the sitting that there was to be a repetition of last night's disorders, in which blows were struck and some members of the radical element in the House chanted "The Red Flag."

The Government's motion that the House go into a committee of supply was again not forward. It was on a similar motion that the opposition gained its technical victory Tuesday.

James Duffell, Liberal, thereupon moved the appointment of a committee to investigate the salaries of the service employees. Apparently with the object of placating the Laborites, who might feel that the Laborites would claim credit for a victory, Mr. Duffell at the outset disassociated himself from the motion which interested in this subject was "the monopoly of any one party."

His motion was seconded by George W. J. Barrett, National (Lloyd George) Liberal. Chancellor Baldwin then announced the Government's intention to appoint such a committee. His speech was of a conciliatory tone and indicated the intention of the Government to comply with what he said was the clearly the general desire of the House.

Upon this there were cheers from the opposition, and the Parliamentary Labor Leader, J. Ramsay MacDonald, also heads the opposition, said the House heard Baldwin's statement with great satisfaction. He accepted the Chancellor's proposal. The motion was withdrawn and the House proceeded to other business.

WORDS OF REVOLUTIONARY SONG SUNG DURING THE DISORDERS IN COMMONS

LONDON, April 12.—The disorder in the House of Commons last night closed with infuriated, strong-armed Laborites chasing the Tory whip, Maj. W. P. Colfax, through the lobbies. In a spirited 100-yard dash the Major beat his pursuers to the shelter of three burly policemen.

The revolutionary song, which was heard above the din during the disorder, ran as follows: "The people's flag is deepest red. It shrouded off our martyred dead. And ere their limbs grew stiff and cold. Their life blood dyed its every fold."

When the members began to file out for an hour's adjournment, fighting started. Robert Murray, a Scottish Laborite, shouted to Under-Secretary of State Ormsby-Gore: "Take that grin off your face; it's offensive and dangerous."

Major Colfax promptly punched Murray in the face and Murray, striking back, missed the Tory whip and landed heavily on Col. Walter Guinness, Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies. The belligerent Scottish members streamed down shouting threats at Colfax, who they considered the aggressor. He fled. When the members filed back an hour later the Speaker announced adjournment.

NEW YORK TO PEKIN AIR ROUTE
PLANNED, SAYS GEN. MITCHELL

Trip Will Be Made Possible in 65 Hours, Declares Army Officer.

PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—An air route between New York and Peking, China, has been organized which will make a trip by passenger airplane in 65 hours. Brigadier-General William Mitchell, Assistant Chief United States Army Air Service, yesterday told the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce. The cost, he said, would be about $1200 a passenger.

Gen. Mitchell said that he had just organized the route and that the time was not far off when the trip would be made in four stops, the first in Winnipeg and the next in Nome, Alaska.

"The service will present no more hazard," he said, "than any other means of transportation, and we hope that there will be a reduction in costs as the experiments progress."

Gen. Mitchell declared that the recent inspection trip across the American continent, covering 5000 miles, had demonstrated that a definite schedule of 27 hours could be maintained between the Atlantic seaboard and the Pacific Coast.

"We can operate 400 miles away from any aerodrome and could do so without refueling," Gen. Mitchell asserted. "Snow qualifies everything. We have flown through air that was 22 degrees below zero."

"WHIPPING BOSS" IS INDICTED IN TABERT INQUIRY

First Degree Murder Charge Against Man Accused of Beating Prisoners in Florida Convict Camp.

17 PERSONS TESTIFY
BEFORE GRAND JURY

Two Guards Tell of Severity With Which North Dakotan Was Punished—Evidence of Soldier.

MADISON, Fla., April 12.—At liberty here today on bail of $10,000, Walter Higginbotham, convict camp "whipping boss," is awaiting trial for first-degree murder in connection with the death of Martin Tabert of North Dakota, who, witnesses said, was beaten to death by Higginbotham.

The Madison County Grand Jury, in session here for investigation of Tabert's death, yesterday indicted Higginbotham on three counts charging first-degree murder. The trial may come up May 15, at Cross City, Fla. The alleged beating occurred in February, 1932. Counsel for Tabert's family in North Dakota, announced a suit would be filed against the Putnam Lumber Co. for $50,000 damages. Higginbotham was employed by this company at the time of Tabert's whipping. It was said that an agreement existed between county authorities and the company whereby the latter leased prisoners.

Seventeen witnesses testified before the grand jury yesterday. These included former convicts who served with Tabert and two convict guards who told of the severity of the treatment of the victim. John T. Gardner, private, Battery F, Fourth United States Field Artillery, stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., said that while a convict with Tabert, after having been sentenced for stealing in a train while attempting to return to his home in Altoona, Pa., in January, 1932, he had frequently been beaten by Higginbotham.

In telling of a beating given to Tabert, Gardner said Tabert was called out of a line one night and the prisoners were being counted in, stripped of his underclothes by Higginbotham, given 80 licks, and then, when he did not arise because of his weakness, Higginbotham gave him more lashes.

Heed on Tabert's Neck.
The "whipping boss," according to the witness, had his heel on Tabert's neck, grinding his face in the sand, while the whipping was going on. As Tabert lay dying in his bunk the following day, Gardner stated, the prisoners were afraid to ask for a doctor, although they knew Tabert would not survive. After Tabert's death, he said, two negro convicts wrapped the body in a blanket and took it away. Higginbotham left the camp a few days later, Gardner said.

J. W. Jackson, former convict guard, testified that Tabert's body was covered with "deep gashes" from Higginbotham's whip, and his head was severely bruised where the whipping boss had beat him with the butt of the whip.

Ninnie Bell, former guard, told the grand jury that Tabert's whipping was so severe, in his opinion, that it was the cause of death. Immediately after the action of the grand jury was made public, word was received from Tallahassee that the witnesses examined here would be summoned before the joint Legislative Committee which has been charged with an investigation of the beatings and of Tabert's death.

Gardner, now 18 years old, said he was originally from Altoona, Pa., and that he left home in May, 1931, to travel as an employee of a circus. He had reached El Paso, Tex., he said, "when he decided to return home, and managed to get as far as Tallahassee, Fla., by New Year's day, 1932. Early that morning he was arrested within the borders of Leon County and taken to jail at Tallahassee. Two days later he was sentenced by the County Judge, R. F. Willis, to pay a fine of $25 or serve 30 days in the charge of stealing a ride on a train. Two days later, Gardner said, he and three other young prisoners arrested for similar offenses were taken to the county jail at Perry, Taylor County, and there turned over to Carl Johnson, warden of the Putnam lumber camp at Clara.

That night the three were turned over to Walter Higginbotham, who was in charge of the company's men in convicts, who put them in "stripes" at a camp across the river in Dixie County. About 35 leased convicts were there, of whom 35 were white men. Gardner said one of whom was Martin Tabert. There were a dozen or more guards over the prisoners, according to Gardner.

PETITION FILED IN NEBRASKA
TO PUT FORD ON BALLOT

American Economic League Would Enter Manufacturer as Progressive Party Candidate for Presidency.

By the Associated Press.
OMAHA, Neb., April 12.—Petitions bearing more than 1600 names, requesting that the name of Henry Ford be placed on the Nebraska primary ballot next year as Progressive party candidate for the presidency of the United States, were filed with the Secretary of State yesterday. Similar petitions, it was announced, will be filed in Idaho Saturday and elsewhere, being circulated in Kansas, Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana, South Dakota, Colorado and other states.

Roy M. Harrop, president of the American Economic League, charged at Hartford, Conn., which is circulating the Ford petitions, said the league had not consulted Ford, but "had drafted him."

"We have had no communication with him, nor connection, yet I am satisfied that when Mr. Ford realizes how the American people need him and want him, he will not decline the candidacy," Harrop said.

In filing the name of Henry Ford as a candidate for President on the Progressive party ticket, we recognize the fact that the largest business in the United States is the Government. It ought to have the best business brains to run it. Henry Ford is a worker of economic miracles. This man, who at one and the same time demonstrated that he can run a higher wage to his workers and sell his product at lower prices than any other man in the world, has proven his ability. He should be President."

Harrop said the league's aims were:

1. Independent, progressive, political action with Henry Ford as candidate for the presidency in 1934.
2. Economic stabilization of the United States, through the establishment of a debt-paying system of finance, in place of the debt-creating Federal Reserve Bank system.
3. A soldier bonus bill by the direct issue of full legal tender currency from the Government.
4. Direct presidential primary, and referendum on war, except in case of invasion.

POLAND EXPELS ALL JEWISH REFUGEES, MANY BEING ARRESTED DAILY

WARSAW, April 12.—(Jewish Telegraph Agency.) HUNDREDS of Jews are being arrested daily in accordance with the order of the Polish Government expelling all Jewish refugees from Poland. It is estimated that up to date more than 8000 refugees have been deported. A majority of them are going to Argentina.

A demand that all Russian Jews in Poland be interned and held as hostages and that their property be confiscated until Archbishop Zepilak, recently condemned to 10 years' imprisonment by a soviet court in Moscow, is released, has been made at a huge meeting held at Bronberg, in protest against the execution of Vice-General Butchkevitch.

PLANTERS BAR PAINTING
NOW IN A CHICAGO HOME

Picture of Nude Aphrodite Had Been "Admired for Years and Years" by Purchaser.

CHICAGO, April 12.—A calm cool dignity graces the foyer of the Central Manufacturing District Club, 1119 West Thirty-fifth street. Above the mantle hangs a large portrait of Gen. Pershing. The other paintings are of solemn-faced folk.

In this sanctuary of conservatism, there recently appeared a painting of a nude Aphrodite. On the day of its advent lunchers at the club, the membership of which consists of wealthy manufacturers, stopped to stare and stare. Some smiled, some looked frightened, some blushed. About the tables the painting waxed and waned. The argument waxed warm. A meeting was called to decide the beautiful stranger's fate. The day went, but the victory was short lived. For her owner, Ambrose Rose, president of a wool scouring company, decided that home was the best place for her. She now occupies the place of honor in the Rose drawing room. "Aphrodite" formerly hung in the barroom of the Planters Hotel in St. Louis. The painting had been purchased by Rose when the hotel went out of business.

"For years and years I admired that picture," he said today. "I refused to sell it as long as the hotel lasted. I studied art for two years, and know a pretty picture when I see one."

GIRL, 21, SETS DANCING RECORD
OF 52 HOURS, 16 MINUTES

Helene Mayer, Who Started Gliding at 9:35 A. M. Tuesday, Quit at 1:51 P. M. Today.

CLEVELAND, O., April 12.—Miss Helene Mayer, 21, Cleveland department store saleswoman, today established a new continuous dancing record of 52 hours and 16 minutes, breaking the previous record of 50 hours and 2 minutes by Miss Alma Cummings, at New York last Monday.

Miss Mayer started dancing at 9:35 a. m. Tuesday and quit at 1:51 p. m. today. She had used six male partners up to noon. At that time the dancing is little more than a walk around the room. A three-minute rest is allowed every seven hours, but when the girl gets hungry she munches on sandwiches and drinks malted milk without stopping her gliding shoes. She was brought out and the girl raises one foot behind her, hopping along as best she can, while the waiters stand by the new shoe. The two girls, who started several hours after Miss Mayer dropped out of the dancing this morning after having passed the 28-hour mark.

"LET THE FOOLS GO
TOT," GEN. BLACK
QUOTED AS SAYING

"Maybe if They Kill Off a Few, They'll Quit," Hunter Declares Adjutant Said of Herrin Trouble.

"REQUESTED TROOPS
IN EVERY REPORT"

Illinois Guard Officer Questioned at Legislative Hearing, Asserts Black Asked Him to Change Report.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 12.—Col. Samuel N. Hunter of the Illinois National Guard, representative of the Adjutant-General at Herrin during the mine riots there, appeared before the investigating committee of the House of Representatives this afternoon to tell his side of the story, and to affirm, contrary to testimony yesterday of Adjutant-General Black, that troops were asked for.

Col. Hunter testified that he had "requested troops be sent to Herrin at every report I made to Gen. Black prior to the massacre."

He said on cross-examination that if troops had been ordered at 3:15 p. m. on the day preceding the killing of the nonunion men, he believed loss of life could have been prevented.

Answering questions of Representative Igoe on cross-examination, Col. Hunter said: "Gen. Black recently asked me to revise my report concerning the rioting."

"What did you say?" Igoe asked. "I said Gen. Black asked me to change my report," Hunter responded. "I told him I'd give it consideration."

He said he had not changed the report. He testified Black's request was made after the House resolution for an investigation was introduced.

Hunter said he read a Chicago newspaper report Saturday, June 17, and on the basis of its information went to Marion at 3 p. m. Sunday, arriving there at 1:45 p. m. Sunday. Adjutant-General Black, he said, was absent from Springfield and he was unable to reach him at Camp Logan or Waukegan. State's Attorney Duty of Williamson County told Hunter on the phone the coal company was using "thugs."

He then detailed his trip and inspection of the mine situation.

Conference With McDowell.
Hunter told of his conversation with a K. McDowell, the mine superintendent, who said he was determined to continue operations, asked for a company of troops and promised Hunter the company would remember him if the troops were obtained. Hunter said he promised to watch the situation.

W. J. Lester, of the coal company, at a conference the next day, asked Col. Hunter to swear in company guards as deputies, Hunter said, but the Sheriff refused.

Col. Hunter said he informed Gen. Black that serious trouble threatened at 1:37 p. m. Wednesday, June 21, to which, he said, Gen. Black responded: "Let them — fools go to it. Maybe if they kill off a few they'll quit."

Hunter said he advised Gen. Black of the killing of two union men, and of Superintendent McDowell's request for troops.

"This was in direct contradiction of Gen. Black's testimony yesterday that no report from Hunter was received of the killing of two union men or of a request for troops."

Col. Hunter presented a copy of a telegram he sent Gov. Small at Waukegan after the killings, on Thursday. He advised Small: "That now the crisis there was over and no need for troops," he said.

Col. Hunter told that after the killing of two union men Wednesday afternoon, he heard rumors that the hardware stores had been broken into and arms and ammunition appropriated by the mob.

GANGSTER FATALLY SHOT AT HIS HOMEKIEL INDORSED FOR GOVERNORSHIP
BY "LIV" MORSE

"Only Man in State Who Can Lead Republicans to Victory," Chief Lowdown Fund Dispenser Says.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., April 12.—Mayor Henry W. Kiel of St. Louis last night became a Republican "paymaster" in Missouri in 1934. The Republican party organization in Missouri is in a deplorable condition," said Morse. "There is only one man in the State that can lead the Republicans to victory at the next State election. That man is Mayor Kiel of St. Louis. His popularity is shown in the fact that he has been elected Mayor of St. Louis three times. We would be assured of a big majority in St. Louis with Mayor Kiel as the party candidate."

Mayor Kiel accepted the approval of Morse and other speakers with a smile, however, later admitting that he would not refuse to accept the opportunity of nomination if given in good faith by the party.

Nat. Goldstein of St. Louis, who was to have been a guest, did not attend. Among the other St. Louis politicians at the dinner were Ollie Chapman, Henry L. Weeke, Ed Miller and Alderman A. H. Niederluecke.

MORE STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE
THAN EVER IS INDICATED

Federal Bureau Says Figures on Early Berry Shipments Show 1932 Record May Be Beaten.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 12.—Indications that the nation's strawberry shortcake this year will be the largest on record are reported today by the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Statistics on early shipments and acreages in the berry producing fields show that this year's crop in all probability will exceed last year's record output of 18,740 carloads, not including numerous express shipments and vast quantities consumed locally or manufactured into preserves and jellies.

The six leading States in 1932 were Tennessee, with 3500 cars; Arkansas, with 2200 cars; Missouri, with 2050 cars; and Maryland, with 1630, and Louisiana, with 1540 and North Carolina, with 1100 cars. Forecast of production in Florida this year is nearly 9,000,000 quarts, or 110 per cent more than last year. Carload shipments to April 7 were 907 cars, almost three times as many cars as came from Florida all last season. Damaged somewhat by frost, the crop in Louisiana may not greatly exceed that of 1932, when nearly 21,000,000 quarts were picked. This season's Alabama production is estimated at 5,000,000 quarts. On the basis of current first five states are Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana, Missouri and Maryland.

"LUCKY BILL"
CROWE SLAIN
DURING VISIT OF "FRIENDS"

Associate of Gangsters Shot Shortly After Arrival at His Home of Several Men in Autos—Party Had Been Heard Conversing in Amicable Tones.

MEMBER OF EGAN
GANG ARRESTED

Victim Gained Nickname Because He Had Been Acquitted Four Times in Two Years on Robbery and Burglary Charges.

Detectives investigating the killing of "Lucky Bill" Crowe, associate of Egan gangsters, who died at City Hospital at 12:05 a. m. today from bullet wounds inflicted 25 minutes before, believe he was slain by men with whom he had been on friendly terms. A member of the Egan gang is under arrest and two other members of the gang are being sought.

Crowe, who was 26 years old, and whose correct name was William J. B. Crowe, was nicknamed "Lucky Bill," because within a period of two years he had been acquitted four times on robbery and burglary charges, and had escaped with a Workhouse sentence on a fifth major charge.

When shot he was in the middle room of his three-room flat at 1529A Chouteau avenue, where he and a woman, whose identity has not yet been established, posed as "Mr. and Mrs. William Martin."

Autos Stop Before House.
The downstairs flat is occupied by Crowe's brother, John Crowe, and a party was held there last night. Shortly after 11:30 p. m. two automobiles stopped in front of the house, and three or four men got out. They ran upstairs to the flat of "Lucky Bill," and were admitted by him.

Apparently the visitors were friends of "Lucky Bill," as the folk in the downstairs flat heard them chatting in friendly tones and recognized the voice of "Lucky Bill" as he participated in the conversation.

At 11:40 p. m. 20 minutes after the arrival of the visitors, two shots were heard in the upper flat, followed by a sound like that of a body falling upon the floor. Footsteps were heard on the stairs leading to the first floor, and neighbors saw several men run from the house and drive off in the two automobiles.

John Crowe waited a few minutes and then ran upstairs to see what had taken place. He found "Lucky Bill" lying unconscious on the floor beside a bed in the middle room, with a bullet hole in his forehead and another in the left arm.

Dies at Hospital.
Believing his brother dead, John Crowe ran to Central Police Station and notified the Desk Sergeant. Detectives motored to "Lucky Bill" room. John was ordered held for further investigation.

"Lucky Bill" was still alive when the detectives found him, but he was unconscious and died a few minutes after he arrived at the hospital.

A revolver with two empty cartridges in the cylinder was lying in a cabinet drawer in the kitchen. The photograph of a woman on a dresser in the middle room of a woman who had been living at the flat as "Mrs. Martin"—and a quantity of feminine apparel in a closet. There was no sign of a struggle having taken place, which bore out John Crowe's statement that there was no noise upstairs preceding the shots.

In front of 1523 Chouteau avenue, a few doors east of the Crowe flat, was found the Ford coupe of Elmer Runge, member of the Egan gang, who had been arrested frequently with "Lucky Bill" in connection with police investigations of holdups and burglaries.

Twin Brother Arrested.
In the John Crowe flat the detectives arrested Pat Crowe, "Lucky Bill's" twin brother, and two other men who said they had been attending John Crowe's party. A five-gallon whisky still was found in the cellar.

Ray Renard, another member of the Egan gang, and said by a police to have been an associate of "Lucky Bill" and Runge, was arrested at 12:30 a. m. on the west approach of McKinley Bridge. In the pocket of his automobile the police found a loaded revolver. Continued on Page 3, Column 4.

RUHR OCCUPATION HAS COST WORLD $300,000,000

Direct and Indirect Loss for Three Months' Period Is Estimated by Reparations Commission.

GERMANS PUT THEIR LOSS OF LIVES AT 51

They Say France and Belgium Have Obtained Only 238,000 Tons of Coal; Communists Invite French

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, April 12.—The economic crisis which has been the result of the occupation of the Ruhr has been estimated by the Reparations Commission at $300,000,000 for the three months' period.

The French experts are particularly interested in Germany's cash output for her program of passive resistance. This is dealt with under several main headings, such as average monthly imports of $160,000,000 of coal at from 25 to 30 gold marks a ton, or roughly $6,000,000 gold marks. This average is struck upon annual imports and production requirements of Germany.

Other items are payment of half wages to some hundreds of thousands of workmen in the Ruhr, the losses to the German export trade, which is the most difficult category to deal with at present, owing to inadequate figures, and the losses to Germany's internal trade.

These calculations satisfy the French that the German Government is spending in actual cash abroad, and in her reduced income of foreign money, sufficient to meet the cash reparations payments under the London agreement of $60,000,000 gold marks monthly. The conclusion is reached by these experts that, if Germany were to show the same deal in making payments as it is now, she would be able to continue meeting the London agreement.

Cost to Occupation Allies. On the other side of the balance sheet, it is found that the three months' occupation of the Ruhr has cost France and Belgium a direct outlay and losses in cash amounting to $447,666,666 francs. This figure includes the budget allowances for the additional cost of maintaining the troops in the Ruhr, which is about $6,000,000 francs monthly for France and $2,000,000 francs for Belgium. There are added the sums paid for imported coal to replace that normally delivered by Germany, the expenses of operating the Ruhr railways and payment of the skilled engineering staff.

The loss in business to the occupation allies is estimated by the reparations experts as upward of $60,000,000 francs monthly, while the loss to Germany exceeds that estimate and both are increasing rapidly. The economic loss to the entire world is calculated in round numbers at $300,000,000 francs (about $122,222,222) for the three months' period.

Communists Request French to Occupy Elberfeld and Barmen.

LONDON, April 12.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Düsseldorf says 2000 Communists from Elberfeld, which is occupied territory and two miles outside the French zone, marched to Vohwinkel, a frontier post, yesterday and sent a delegation to request the French commander to occupy Elberfeld and Barmen.

This extraordinary action was inspired by the refusal of the Elberfeld authorities to provide relief work for the unemployed. The French pressure has forced many mills in the occupied territory to close through lack of fuel and raw materials, and unemployment is steadily increasing.

Town of Buer Fined After Blowing Up of Railway.

BERLIN, April 12.—It is reported from Buer that that town has been fined $6,000 francs and that a street traffic at night is forbidden on account of the blowing up of the railroad between Buer and Beckinghausen.

German Estimate of Occupation "Murdered" and "Thief."

BERLIN, April 12.—Fifty-one Germans "murdered" and 218,000 tons of coal and coke exported—this is the way the German authorities summarize the outstanding results of the occupation of the Ruhr, which began three months ago. They declare that the reparations deliveries of coal and coke under present occupation conditions would have amounted to 4,200,000 tons. Twenty-five of these killed were laborers, 12 officials and the remainder merchants, manufacturers and pensioners, and two women.

The press censorship, the Germans say, makes it impossible for them to specify accurately "how many centuries in prison sentences have been imposed and how many billions of marks in stolen money, confiscated relief funds and in fines should be added to the record."

Youth for Whose Death Former "Whipping Boss" Has Been Indicted

MARTIN TABERT. This is a historic unpublished photograph of the North Dakota youth whose death in a convict camp in Florida led to the appointment of a legislative committee to investigate the convict leasing system.

"WHIPPING BOSS" IS INDICTED IN TABERT INQUIRY

He said the guards charged frequently.

Whipped Three Times.

"In the first week I was there I was linked with a strap by Higginsbotham three different times," Gardner declared in describing his experiences at the lumber camp. "The whip was about four feet long, four inches wide and with a handle two or three inches thick. It said the skin here from my shoulders to my knees and I couldn't sleep that night for a long time afterward for the pain. When he got through he said, 'Next time I have to beat you I'll kill you.'"

"Two days later he beat me again," Gardner went on. "He gave me about 25 blows with the whip this time. They tore open the skin from the first whipping and cut my back in three places. I had been told not to bother or he would beat me longer, but it hurt so bad I couldn't help butting."

"The third time was a couple of days later. He gave me 40 or 50 blows that time. Our gang foreman, a man named Clark, had told me I didn't throw the mud high enough to suit him. I didn't have the strength to do it by that time."

"Martin was in the same grading gang," Gardner declared, "and he was longer than I said Martin was big and strong when he got there two weeks before, but he was already sick and skinny when I arrived."

"I have seen Higginsbotham beat six or seven men in one night. One day he beat nearly every one in the grading gang, and there were more than 20. Seems like when he got started he wouldn't know when to quit."

Tells of Tabert Muffing. "One night we were all lined up to be counted in before we went into the sleeping camp. Higginsbotham called three of the men out of line and beat them. Then he called Martin (Tabert) out. Martin was so weak he could hardly answer loud enough to be heard. It made Higginsbotham mad because he didn't move fast enough and pulled his underclothes off himself. We were all standing on the about 20 feet away and watched the whipping with a dozen guards standing over us."

"Higginsbotham began whipping Martin and I counted 10 blows before

POLICE PUZZLED AS TO MOTIVE FOR SHOOTING IN AUTO

One Theory Is That Rudolph C. Ritter Was Object of Revenge for Accident on Bridge.

Police today are attempting to establish a motive for the shooting of Rudolph C. Ritter, 44 years old, of 1206 Laurel street, in charge of the purchasing department of the J. P. Merrill Drug Co., as he was riding in an automobile through Fairground Park at 4:15 p. m. yesterday.

Ritter was hit in the back near the spinal column. An X-ray photograph taken at the scene of the shooting showed the extent of the injury. His condition is said to be critical and he is paralyzed below the waist.

Police believe the shooting either was an attempted kidnapping or was for revenge for a slight automobile accident on the west approach of the McKinnon Bridge shortly before.

Gunnar Carlander, of 10 North King's highway, a printer and stockholder in the J. P. Merrill Drug Co., who was driving the automobile in which Ritter was riding, believes the shots were fired because it was feared Ritter had obtained the license number of the car in which the persons who fired the shot were riding and might be able to identify them. Carlander believes they were firing because of some criminal act.

Carlander and Ritter were returning from Alton, where they had been on business. When they stopped to get out of the west approach of the McKinnon Bridge a Ford coupe, driven by a man, stopped in front of them. They then drove down the middle of the bridge, looking at stop and ran into their machine.

Damage to Car Slight.

Ritter alleged, however, that the damage was slight, amounting to the two men in the Ford coupe and then returned to his car without speaking. Carlander said the Ford coupe followed them out Bremen street. He stopped at Natural Bridge avenue and Grand boulevard to permit the Ford to pass.

"When he got up, Martin was hit him and Higginsbotham said, 'Oh, you haven't had enough, and began hitting him again. I didn't count the second time, but I think he was hit about 25 times. Higginsbotham took as long. Higginsbotham held his foot on Martin's neck while he beat him."

"Then he told him to get up. Higginsbotham hit him over the head with the butt end of the whip and drove him back into the line, leaving him all the time he was staggering. Higginsbotham said he was afraid to get into the line with him."

"When he got off his back, I saw his skin was all off his back. I saw him with the blood running down. He tried to say something but his voice was too weak. He just fell over or lay on his back."

Gardner said Tabert tried to talk but the only thing he could understand was "water." He was trying to say something about "home" but "we couldn't make out what he said." The witness said the doctor, who came to see Tabert during the night, and "we dared not ask for one," although the men knew the boy was dying.

After Tabert died, Gardner said two negroes took the body away after wrapping it in a blanket. He didn't know where they took it.

"Higginsbotham came around a few days later and told us he was leaving a box. Gardner concluded, 'We said he hoped we would get a better man than he was.'"

AIRCRAFT TO ADVERTISE FLYING CLUB MEETING

Plans for October International Air Meet at St. Louis Field to Be Discussed Tomorrow.

Two sets of aircraft are expected to fly over St. Louis, especially the downtown district, at noon tomorrow, weather conditions permitting, to advertise a meeting of the St. Louis Flying Club at the Washington Hotel at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

The meeting is in connection with the club's plans to change its membership and prepare for the international air meet to be held at St. Louis Field in October.

One of the sets is to comprise two airplanes—lighter-than-air craft, with one bag—Zee-Nut Field, and the other is to be made up of several airplanes— heavier-than-air—members of Flying Club members from St. Louis Field.

JOPLIN MAN IS PAROLED BECAUSE OF FAMILY'S PLIGHT

Wife, Child, Mother and Sister and a Job Await Her F. Cramer Today.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 12.—There will be a happy reunion today in Joplin when Roy F. Cramer, convicted a year ago of forgery in the second degree, reaches his wife and baby and his widowed mother and his sister.

Cramer was convicted in March, 1922, of forging the signature of a Joplin miller and was sent to the Missouri State Penitentiary for two years. Since his wife and family have been without means of livelihood, his father has died and his mother and younger sister forced to seek employment.

It is understood the miller whose name is alleged to have been forged, circulated a petition asking the Board of Pardons and Prolong to review the case and, if possible, release Cramer. Letters from the penitentiary authorities, the trial judge and other officials of Joplin asked for Cramer's release.

Yesterday the parole was signed. Cramer will have a job. The superintendent of the Missouri State Penitentiary has offered him a place there, which was accepted.

The revolutionary forces should be the first time in Parliament, although Herbert Asquith is credited to some observers as having left the House in disgust when the song started. Perhaps the scene recalled to him a similar stormy occasion during his own premiership in 1912.

PLANE CARRIES FOOD TO 22 TRAIL BLAZERS

Three Members of Party Accompanying Auto Trip Through Everglades Reach Miami.

By the Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., April 12.—An airplane piloted by Capt. W. A. Carr and carrying Charles H. Hunt, one of the Everglades automobile party, reached Miami last night, left to-day with supplies for the other 22 members of the party, who are 40 miles west of Miami, short of food and shelter.

The three members of the trail blazers, who arrived here early today, brought the first word that the Everglades automobile party had reached Miami. The party is now on the trail of the Everglades automobile party.

Diagram Showing Seat of George Sisler's Sinus Trouble

George H. Sisler, first baseman of the Browns, who was selected last year as the "most valuable player in baseball," is to be operated upon, probably Friday, for relief from a sinus inflammation which has resulted in a slight impairment of his sight.

The above diagram, a cross section of the skull, shows the location of the various sinuses. Sisler's physician has declined to tell which sinus is affected, but physicians say that the ethmoid sinuses, generally about six in number, probably are the ones causing the trouble.

The inflammation, in cases similar to Sisler's, exerts a pressure at the back of the eyeball which causes it to turn slightly, thus affecting the focal power and resulting in what is commonly called "double vision."

The operation, it is said, is comparatively simple and generally results in complete relief.

Sisler's physician said yesterday that he would be unable to play before June 1.

The sinuses, according to authorities, serve to lessen the weight of the skull and to add resonance to the voice.

When the six Hogan gangsters were arrested, just after leaving the home of Deputy State Attorney Inspector Edward J. (Jelly Roll) Hogan, 3635 Cass avenue, police found six loaded revolvers stacked on the floor of the car. The expedition had started just 14 hours after the Hogan house had been bombarded with bullets fired from two automobiles.

At Police Headquarters the men arrested were booked as: John (Kink) Connell, who recently was acquitted of murder in connection with the killing of his brother-in-law, "Alibi" Charley Vance; Harry Greengard, brother of Max, who is charged by the Hogan gangsters with having hired the Hogan gunmen who killed Constable William T. Egan, former leader of the "rats"; Hubert Costello, Pat Scanlon, Frank Bova and Frank Mercury.

carrying a concealed revolver. He served the sentence and paid the fine.

His escape from a penitentiary sentence on that occasion came about thus: He and Michael Neary had been caught red-handed leaving the Smith residence. Both were indicted for burglary. Dr. Smith declined to prosecute Neary because he was informed by a physician that Neary had tuberculosis.

Against Neary was nolle prossed, and as this weakened the case against Crowe, the Circuit Attorney, by agreement with Dr. Smith, recommended that Crowe be allowed to plead guilty to the minor charge of destruction of property.

But that was not the only time Crowe squirmed out of a felony charge. On Dec. 6, 1919, he was sentenced to serve in the penitentiary for a degree robbery. He had been convicted of holding up the girl cashier of the Hannibal Ice & Fuel Co., 2401 Broadway and Olive streets.

He was awaiting transportation to prison at Jefferson City when Joseph (Dang Dang) Henry, who was sentenced to 35 years in the penitentiary for a series of robberies, confessed that it was he, and not "Lucky Bill," who had held up the ice company's cashier. Henry added that he might as well have a 43-year "stretch" (sentence) over his head while he was at it because he did not expect to live long anyway.

The cashier was told of Henry's confession. She looked at him and said he resembled the robber more than did "Lucky Bill." Henry was tried on the charge and was convicted. The sentence of "Lucky Bill" was set aside, and the case against him dismissed.

Henry recently died of tuberculosis.

On the night of Oct. 1, 1920, three men held up the Manhattan Cafe, a negro resort at Newstead and Finckle streets. "Newstead" was caught as he was running away. He was identified by three negroes in the cafe and was indicted not only for robbery but for having a concealed weapon.

A loaded revolver having been found in his possession. At the trial the negroes said they could not identify "Lucky Bill" and he was discharged. The negroes were indicted for perjury, but the cases later were dropped. The Circuit Attorney stating that it would be impossible to make a case.

HOGAN GANGSTERS' CASE TO GRAND JURY TODAY

Circuit Attorney to Ask for Indictments Immediately to Prevent Delay of Trial.

Seeking to circumvent moves for delaying trial of charges against six Hogan gangsters, arrested March 22 as they started out "gunning" for Eganites, rival gangsters, the Circuit Attorney's office this afternoon will present the case to the Grand Jury in advance of action by the Court of Criminal Correction in preliminary hearings upon warrants against the gangsters, who are charged with carrying concealed weapons.

The defendants made the first move in an apparent plan to delay trial when a change of venue was asked as the preliminary hearing was called last Monday before Judge Hochfelder, in Division No. 2. A change of venue was granted, and Judge Miller, in Division No. 1. The hearing there is set for tomorrow.

Anticipating that the gangsters' attorneys will seek other technical means to delay trial, the Circuit Attorney's office is placing the cases of each of the six gangsters before the Grand Jury. If indictments are voted the cases will be immediately docketed in the Circuit Court.

When the six Hogan gangsters were arrested, just after leaving the home of Deputy State Attorney Inspector Edward J. (Jelly Roll) Hogan, 3635 Cass avenue, police found six loaded revolvers stacked on the floor of the car. The expedition had started just 14 hours after the Hogan house had been bombarded with bullets fired from two automobiles.

At Police Headquarters the men arrested were booked as: John (Kink) Connell, who recently was acquitted of murder in connection with the killing of his brother-in-law, "Alibi" Charley Vance; Harry Greengard, brother of Max, who is charged by the Hogan gangsters with having hired the Hogan gunmen who killed Constable William T. Egan, former leader of the "rats"; Hubert Costello, Pat Scanlon, Frank Bova and Frank Mercury.

carrying a concealed revolver. He served the sentence and paid the fine.

His escape from a penitentiary sentence on that occasion came about thus: He and Michael Neary had been caught red-handed leaving the Smith residence. Both were indicted for burglary. Dr. Smith declined to prosecute Neary because he was informed by a physician that Neary had tuberculosis.

Against Neary was nolle prossed, and as this weakened the case against Crowe, the Circuit Attorney, by agreement with Dr. Smith, recommended that Crowe be allowed to plead guilty to the minor charge of destruction of property.

But that was not the only time Crowe squirmed out of a felony charge. On Dec. 6, 1919, he was sentenced to serve in the penitentiary for a degree robbery. He had been convicted of holding up the girl cashier of the Hannibal Ice & Fuel Co., 2401 Broadway and Olive streets.

He was awaiting transportation to prison at Jefferson City when Joseph (Dang Dang) Henry, who was sentenced to 35 years in the penitentiary for a series of robberies, confessed that it was he, and not "Lucky Bill," who had held up the ice company's cashier. Henry added that he might as well have a 43-year "stretch" (sentence) over his head while he was at it because he did not expect to live long anyway.

The cashier was told of Henry's confession. She looked at him and said he resembled the robber more than did "Lucky Bill." Henry was tried on the charge and was convicted. The sentence of "Lucky Bill" was set aside, and the case against him dismissed.

Henry recently died of tuberculosis.

On the night of Oct. 1, 1920, three men held up the Manhattan Cafe, a negro resort at Newstead and Finckle streets. "Newstead" was caught as he was running away. He was identified by three negroes in the cafe and was indicted not only for robbery but for having a concealed weapon.

A loaded revolver having been found in his possession. At the trial the negroes said they could not identify "Lucky Bill" and he was discharged. The negroes were indicted for perjury, but the cases later were dropped. The Circuit Attorney stating that it would be impossible to make a case.

Smith Jr., 4502 Maryland avenue, was permitted to plead guilty to destruction of property, and was sentenced to six months in the Workhouse. At the same time he was fined $100 on a charge of

$174,338 IN GASOLINE TAX FOR STREET WORK

Committee Proposes to Expend Revenue on 15 Separate Thoroughfares.

A number of important street improvements are planned to be made this year from money raised by the gasoline tax, which is 1/2 cent a gallon on gasoline transported over the streets, in other words, on filling station supplies. The tax for the fiscal year, which began Tuesday, is expected to yield about $175,000.

The Gasoline Tax Committee, comprising representatives of automobile and freight moving interests, the Automobile Club of Missouri and the city Street Department, meeting yesterday, voted to expend sums estimated to total $174,338.60, including 15 separate street projects and $25,000 for filling thoroughfares. The recommendations will be embodied in a proposed ordinance to be submitted to the Board of Aldermen next Tuesday.

Projects and Estimated Costs.

The street project for repairs or new pavements, with estimated costs, are:

Spruce street, Third to Fourth, $4,385; Spruce street, Fourth to Broadway, $4,470; Spruce street, Broadway to Twelfth, $32,237; Washington avenue, Third to Fourth, $10,260; Washington avenue, Taylor to Walton, $6,500; Twentieth street, Pine to Washington, $4,650; Broadway, Clark to Elm, $1,728; McCausland avenue, Clayton to Mitchell, $17,442; Clayton avenue, short stretch on the north side of the triangle, between Skinker and city limits, $14,327; Tower Grove avenue, Manchester to Vandeventer, at railroad stations, $10,593; Natural Bridge avenue, Salisbury to Grand, $4,550.

Iron Out Bad Bumps.

These streets are all important traffic arteries and the improvements in a number of cases will have the effect of ironing out bad bumps in the pavements. The Spruce street plan is in connection with the bond issue project for improvement of Third street, for a trucking route. The McCausland avenue plan will fit in with the City Plan Commission scheme for extension of this street to connect with the projected Lindenwood boulevard, and will be a link in reaching Manchester road, connecting of which through St. Louis county is to be finished this year. The little stretch of Clayton avenue will at last furnish a good connection between Forest Park and Clayton road, in the county. Clayton avenue is now being improved from Oakland avenue to Skinker road.

INQUIRY INTO FATAL BURNING

Coroner Causes Investigation Into Death of Girl.

A police investigation is being made today at the Coroner's request in the circumstances which resulted in the death of Thelma Boile, 6-year-old daughter of Christ Boile, 2619 Glasgow avenue.

Thelma died Thursday night at St. Mary's Hospital of burns suffered at her home about 4 p. m. March 20. It was said then that her clothing caught fire from a lighted candle.

him up July 21, 1920, and took $58 from him. The trial of "Lucky Bill" mother testified he was at home sick at the time of the robbery, and he "walked" (police term for acquittal) again.

Although "Lucky Bill" began knocking at the door of the penitentiary eight years ago, the police point out that, through his good luck, he never has served a prison sentence. On May 18, 1915, when he was indicted for burglary, he was permitted to plead guilty to petit larceny and was given six months in the workhouse.

He spent his spare time, when he was not at the penitentiary, in trials of other men charged with felonies. Police say that was his only recreation, and that he seemed deeply interested in criminal court procedure.

GOOD taste and good selection have as much to do with a good-looking office as lavish expenditure.

The thing that makes many an office hopeless from a decorative standpoint is the floor.

An unsightly floor of concrete or soft wood is a discouraging setting for good rugs or handsome furnishings.

Luckily a floor of Armstrong's Linoleum can be laid over wood or concrete. And this laying can be done in such a manner that not only is the new floor a cheerful note of color, but it presents a smooth, clear expanse, unbroken by gaping cracks or seams.

In choosing such a floor, bear in mind what can be done with bordered linoleum. A border of Armstrong's Jaspé Linoleum or of Armstrong's plain black, gray, or green linoleum set around a field of marble or inset tile linoleum will give your office floor all the dignity and beauty that you can desire even with the finest appointments.

These bordered linoleum floors, while inexpensive, are permanent, quiet, resilient, and comfortable. They offer designs and colors to blend with any scheme of office decoration.

ARGUMENT FOR WORLD COURT LIKE THAT FOR LEAGUE

Administration Explains That Britain's Six Votes in Selecting Judges Will Not Be Prejudicial to America.

By DAVID LAWRENCE,
A Special Washington Correspondent
of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Official assurance was given today that those who have been worrying about "Britain's six votes to America's one" in choosing judges for the world court were unnecessarily disturbed.

The American Government feels that the United States is sufficiently protected against any supposed inequality in voting and the following explanation is given on that point: Nominations for judges are submitted to the League of Nations council as well as to the assembly of the League. Under the League covenant if the United States were represented in the council, it would have one vote. The entire British empire has only one. In order for a nomination to be ratified by the council, it must have a majority vote of that body.

Without the concurrence of the council, elections made by the assembly are ineffective. It is true that in the assembly the British dominions each have one vote and if the Irish Free State is given membership, as seems likely, the British dominions would have seven.

But with 45 to 50 votes in the assembly, no single group of six or seven could have any more influence in persuading others to elect a certain candidate for judge than would the United States with one actual vote, but with potential influence in Central and South America, most of whose 13 votes are more likely to follow the lead of the United States than of a European power. Mexico, the Dominican Republic and Haiti are not represented in the League of Nations.

This argument is made on the assumption that the United States would be represented in the League for the election of world court judges. Like League Argument.

The interesting phase of this argument, which is being used by the Republican administration to justify participation in the world court, is that precisely the same line of thought was advanced by the Democratic administration when the "six to one" cry was raised and it is a fact that the alleged inequality of voting and the ambiguity of Article Ten were as instrumental as any other factors in preventing American acceptance of the covenant of the League itself.

The only difference is that the United States, if in the league, would have more protection in the council on matters other than the selection of judges for the world court, as a unanimous vote of the council is required before any action can be taken and no important action of the assembly can be taken unless there has been unanimity of voting in the council.

If the Harding administration should succeed in convincing the American people that the "six to one" argument is pointless, it would help the proponents of the covenant of the league in waging their battle, too.

Already the league itself has practically gone on record in favor of modifying Article Ten so that it will conform to the principle of reservation proposed in the American Senate by Lodge of Massachusetts.

George Wharton Pepper, Republican Senator from Pennsylvania and a close friend of President Harding, openly is in favor of rewriting the covenant to conform to the Lodge reservations, and the battle over the language of the covenant may be said to be seriously far as political Washington is concerned.

Pepper insists that he would divorce the League of Nations from any of the enforcement clauses of the Versailles treaty, a view held by Secretary Hoover and expressed since he became a member of the Harding Cabinet.

The Pennsylvania Senator declares also that he would give the council the power to recommend action to the respective governments, but not to coerce. There always has been a difference of opinion as to whether the council had any powers, but those of recommendation, but the movement to make that point explicit will not be fought by the original League of Nations Democrats and it is a coalition of these Democrats and the pro-League Republicans and the pro-League Democrats that can be expected to furnish the necessary two-thirds in the Senate to ratify the protocol for American adhesion to the International Court of Justice.

There is some talk that the Democrats will endeavor to force the covenant to the fore again as a trading point in the Senate, urging that the Republicans support a modified covenant if they party conference since the campaign of 1920. The probabilities are that they will go along with the Republicans on the world court proposal, irrespective of whether there is a reciprocal support for a revised league or association of nations.

SAYS POLITICAL PARTIES NEED GOOD CITIZENSHIP

Attorney-General Barrett Tells Republican Women Two Must Go Together.

Attorney-General Barrett, speaking to the West End Republican Women's Club at Hotel Gatesworth at luncheon yesterday, discussed the relation of partisanship and good citizenship, holding that the two go together.

"There are two distinct doctrines of how to make a political party powerful," he said, "and they cause a never-ending internal struggle within each of the great parties. A dividing line runs through both parties at right angles to the party line and marks the division of the special interests against the interests of the people.

"In each party there are those who believe that service to the public is the best politics and that it will result in public appreciation and public support. There are men in each party, on the other hand, who believe that the public does not know or care when service has been rendered and that elections are usually decided by purchasable and deliverable votes. The second doctrine has won its many victories. Under this plan money takes the place of merit, and money can be obtained in sufficient quantities only from special interests, who, in return, are seeking special privileges.

"Merely Political Paymasters. "That is the setup for the old army game of politics. Its leaders are not leaders in any true sense of the word. They are merely political paymasters, by whom funds are collected and through whom funds are used. I know in both parties many men who have not a single self-respecting individual follower, yet who can oftentimes deliver the majority of votes in their community.

"I said a majority of the votes—I do not mean a majority of the voters. But so often the majority of the voters do not come to the polls, and votes are not votes unless they are cast. The baser interests have never yet won a victory, except by the people's default. In a democracy like ours the people cannot lose a fight except by failing to fight.

"Propaganda Lessens Interest. "The real place for effective citizenship, therefore, is within the party organization and that means in the party meetings and party primaries. I am afraid the propaganda for 'independent voting' is partly responsible for the lessening interest in primary elections. If the so-called 'independent' voter stays away from the primary because of his boasted freedom from party alignment, his imaginary independence has betrayed him into utter dependence and he is not a free sovereign, but a servile slave."

90 PER CENT OF PEACH CROP IN MISSOURI REPORTED LOST

Plums, Cherries and Strawberries
Also Damaged by March Freezes, Says State Survey.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, April 12.—An almost total destruction of the Missouri peach crop by the late March freezes is reported by E. A. Logan and Jewel Mayes of the Federal-State Crop Reporting service. In a bulletin issued yesterday they said that 90 per cent of the crop was killed, that plum and early cherries were badly damaged and that early blossoms of strawberries were killed.

General farm conditions, however, were reported to be favorable. The wheat crop was said to be 84 per cent normal, with a yield range of from $3,782,000 to $5,707,000 bushels. Fields in a few counties were said to be badly infested with chinch bugs, and the Hessian fly was found in localized areas.

Clean house without soap!

You can escape the annual drudge of Spring house-cleaning and the back-breaking hard work with scrub brush and soap, by using the modern Stauffer soapless method of cleaning.

Forty thousand families are now using Stauffer's Laundry Tablets. For 30 years they have helped to lighten the burden of housecleaning and washing. Every one of the 2210 grocers in St. Louis and vicinity sells them. They are easy to use and they cost far less than the best laundry soap. But the big item is the remarkable saving in labor.

Stauffer's Laundry Tablets, used primarily for washing clothes are equally effective on woodwork, furniture, glassware and other household effects. They dissolve the dirt and give an absolutely clean surface, without injury to paint or varnish.

See how easy it is to use Stauffer's. Read these simple directions:

One tablet makes a quart of suds. Use one quart to a bucket of water. Wash the surface with a sponge dipped in this suds, not a brush. Then wring out a soft cloth in a bucket of clear water and wipe down the surface again. That's all there is to it!

Ask your grocer today for Stauffer's Laundry Tablets and take the gloom out of your Spring house cleaning.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to very severe, that nothing has ever been found to take its place. Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness. 500,000 of bonds and the additional issue will add an additional $16,500 of interest for the taxpayers of East St. Louis, Madison, Venice and Granite City to pay.

The bonds will carry an interest rate of 5 1/2 per cent, although previous issues for the project were 6 per cent bonds.

William F. Rothe and Albert Meitzner, trustees opposing the issue of the bonds, said they had received legal advice that the issue would exceed the constitutional limit of bonds which could be issued, but the other members brushed the objection aside on the ground that that was a question for the purchasers of the bonds and not for the trustees.

A portion of the money obtained from the bonds will be used to purchase additional right of way for the canal, which is designed to drain the lowlands east of East St. Louis and to carry on the work, the funds of the district being nearly depleted and tax collections slow.

3 WOMEN IN RAID ON STILL

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., April 12.—
The largest still yet discovered in this county has fallen into the hands of Sheriff Hogg. The raid was led by a woman, Mrs. Stella Owens, daughter of J. Williamson, its operator, who, with Isaac Pope, said to be its owner, is in jail here. The still has a capacity of 140 gallons.

It was found in the woods a mile from Williamson's home, three miles south of Flak. Mrs. Owens, in making the complaint to officers, and asking that the still be seized, said that "moonshining" had been a curse to the family. Williamson's wife, 39 years old, who has been the mother of 14 children, expressed satisfaction at being rid of the sordid industry. With Mrs. Owens and the officers who captured the still were two other women, Mrs. C. D. McCoy, the Sheriff's daughter, president of the W. C. T. U. in Poplar Bluff, and Mrs.
W. B. Lankford.

BIDS ON CONCRETE POSTS FOR ELECTRIC LIGHTS IN

Utilities Head Says Offers Will Be Referred to Citizens'

Bids were received by the Board of Public Service today on the manufacture of 500 concrete standards of the type to be used in the residence sections of the city in installation of the city-wide electric street lighting system, an $8,000,000 bond issue project.

The low bidder was the Hogan Construction Co., with a bid of $22.50 a standard, or $11,250 for 500. Six other bids ranged from $23.50 each to $25.50. Four bids were under the city estimate of $30.
Director Hogg of the Department of Public Utilities said the bids would be referred to the Citizens' Supervisory Committee on Bond Issue Expenditures, for a decision on the award of the contracts, this afternoon.

The 500 standards are to be used in installing electric lights of the proposed permanent type on streets widened or reconstructed before installation of the city-wide system is started. The first work of this sort is to be done on Chouteau avenue, from Broadway to Grand boulevard.
The posts will be colored to resemble red granite, and will be surmounted with a copper and glass fixture containing the electric lamp.

AMERICAN PLAN HOTEL GIVEN JOLT BY JURY

Verdict for Damages Against Proprietor of One Who Had
St. Louis Salesman Arrested.

The "American Plan" hotel, which charges for meals whether they are eaten or not, has just been given a knockout by a jury at West Plains, Mo., in sustaining the refusal of R. D. McGee, a St. Louis traveling man, to pay for a meal he did not eat, and nullifying the hotel man for swearing at him and having him arrested when he refused to pay.

On a night in September, 1931, McGee, representing a St. Louis hardware company, put up at the Hotel Arcade at West Plains. It was late and McGee wanted all the sleep he could get, so he told the clerk not to call him for breakfast. But when he checked out next morning he found himself charged with 65 cents for the breakfast he had not eaten.

McGee refused to pay. F. Z. Kinkaid, the proprietor, reminded him that the Arcade was an American Plan hotel and that under the American Plan meals were charged for whether they were eaten or not. McGee said, "American Plan or no American Plan, he wasn't going to pay something for nothing. He says Kinkaid called him names, and then swore out a warrant charging McGee with obtaining board and lodging by false pretense. The charge was not pressed and was later dismissed by Kinkaid.

McGee filed suit for $1000 for malicious prosecution. He was backed by the State Traveling Men's Association. Kinkaid was supposed to have the backing of the Hotel Keepers' Association. He denied that on the witness stand, but the case was looked upon as a test.

The case was hotly contested, with an imposing array of legal talent on each side. The jury was convinced that McGee had been badly treated and that he should have a verdict. The only difficulty was in arriving at the amount. Some jurors wanted to give him $1000 and some $500. The $250 verdict was a compromise. Kinkaid intends to carry the case to the higher courts.

FARM LABOR SUPPLY REPORTED 12 PER CENT SHORT OF DEMAND

Shortage Greatest in Northern Industrial Belt, Federal Survey Discloses.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The farm labor supply of the United States was 12 per cent short of the demand on April 1, according to a survey made on that date by the Department of Agriculture. The shortage was found to be greatest in the northern industrial belt, extending from New England westward to the Mississippi River. In no geographical division was the supply equal to the demand. A year ago there was an excess of 11 per cent over the demand, and two years ago there was an excess of nine per cent. In the North Atlantic states on April 1 the supply was 23 per cent below the demand; in the east, north central states, the shortage was 20 per cent; in the south Atlantic states, 12 per cent; in the south central states, eight per cent; in the west north central states, seven per cent; and in the western states, including the mountain and Pacific groups, three per cent.

GIVEN 6 MONTHS FOR ASSAULT

Farmer Also Fined for Hitting Man With Cuspidor and Ink Well.

Everett L. Baggett, a farmer, living three miles west of Clayton, was found guilty yesterday of felonious assault and sentenced to six months in jail with a fine of $150 by a jury in Circuit Judge Wurdeman's Court at Clayton, which heard evidence designed to prove that Baggett struck his brother-in-law, Anthony Wayth, 4077 Moffitt avenue, with a cuspidor and an ink well last July 11. The alleged assault occurred in Circuit Judge McElhinney's courtroom at Clayton while trial of a suit by Baggett against Wayth for collection on notes was in progress. It was asserted by witnesses for the plaintiff, among the Judge McElhinney, that Baggett became enraged at a remark Wayth addressed to him and seized the first weapons he could lay hands on. The ink well struck Wayth in the head, knocking him down. It was claimed, Baggett will seek a new trial.

Mexican Expulsion of American.
By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, April 12.—The order of expulsion against Dr. Edward Kilbourne Tullidge of San Antonio has been modified upon the request of the American Charge d'Affaires, George T. Summerlin, and the physician have been given eight days in which to leave the country. Dr.
Tullidge was arrested here early this month, accused of aiding the rebels in the State of Tabasco.

WOMAN JUDGE URGES OUTLAWING OF WAR

Says World Conference Should Draft International Code and Tribunal Should Settle Disputes.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
DES MOINES, Ia., April 12.—War must be outlawed, if humanity is to survive, Miss Florence E. Allen of Cleveland, Judge of the Ohio Supreme Court, said in an address before the national convention of the League of Women Voters last night.
She discussed the question from the viewpoint of a Judge who has dealt with crime.

"I suggest the abolition of war as a legal system, to be accomplished by three steps, each simple," said Judge Allen. "These three essential prerequisites of the three steps which must be taken, whatever other step we take or machinery we adopt, if war is to be eliminated, they are:

"1. That war be outlawed and declared a crime, under the law of nations, and that as a means of settlement of disputes it be abolished."
"2. That a conference of civilized nations be held for the creation and codification of international law on the basis of equity and right."

"3. That a court be established with jurisdiction over all purely international disputes as defined by the international code."
"You cannot disarm unless you outlaw war. Unless war be outlawed, nations must be armed, just as men must carry arms wherever murder is the rule. We cannot do away with secret diplomacy unless we outlaw war. Secret diplomacy is the handmaiden of war. War is outlawed the principal reason for secretary will fail."

"You cannot abolish the manufacture of munitions for profit except by outlawing war."

Cites Own Experience.
"I am not speaking to you here as a dreamer, but out of my own experience. I have handled hundreds more cases than some of you of the existence of the irreducible minimum of criminal activity. There will always be some crime and some violence. How do we handle it? Do we say, 'Let it run riot. It always has been and always will be? Abolish the law against killing and shooting, because some men are criminal at heart? No, we erect a standard of not shooting and not killing, and we enact that standard into law, and we punish those who do not conform.
Society does not in private law condone crime, it penalizes it and makes it punishable."

"There will for some time be an irreducible minimum of criminal activity among nations. I intend to call it by its name. Last of territory, just of dominion, desire for empire, willingness to kill the inhabitants of other nations is criminal.
Why let this run riot, and say, 'It always has been, it always will be?'
We did not wait for men to become perfect before we enacted individual law; we cannot afford to wait for nations to become perfect before we enact international law. When they become perfect no law will be necessary. That law must include a declaration that war is a crime against civilization and penalize it under the law of nations."

Would Declare War a Crime.
"When the international code is written condemning war as murder, the law of self-defense between nations will have to come within that code in order to justify a war."

"What form the law should take is plain. It should declare that war is a crime against civilization and outlaw it as such. Who should enact the law is just as plain. It must be enacted by the civilized world. It need not be enacted by a Legislature or a Parliament. It can be enacted by a simple conference as an universal treaty. And America, the first great nation to live in friendship with her neighbors, should call a conference to outlaw war, through a treaty, followed by a code convention to enact and codify international law along lines of international justice."

"How the outlawry of war and the international code should be enforced is equally plain. It should be enforced by a court with affirmative jurisdiction which can call in nations which make war and defy the moral law and judicially settle disputes which would otherwise lead to injustice and to war. For this two things are necessary: The affirmative jurisdiction to hear the merits of the dispute just as our Supreme Court has jurisdiction over the states, and, secondly, the code, the law."

"The President of the United States has requested our entry into the League of Nations court. I favor any step that indicates an intention to take our part in the work of attaining world co-operation for peace. But, my friends, do not be deceived as to the effectiveness of such action. The League Court is a consent court, which, under the League of Nations constitution, can have no jurisdiction except by common consent of the parties."

Force of Public Opinion.
"Laws are not enforced through physical force only. Laws are also enforced through public opinion.
The better part of law enforcement is done through public conscience.
"The same force of public opinion can be built up among the nations.
It cannot be built up until the moral law that war is illegal is expressed in terms of law. The law must be expressed so that the spiritual strength of the world, always much greater than we admit, may rally to its backing."

HOW FARMERS FOOL THE HENS INTO LAYING MORE

This and Other Matters Gone Into at Electric Men's Convention in Progress Here.

The millions of dollars which have been expended to electrify the rural districts are plausibly for the further-ment of the amenities of life in the outlying districts, but according to F. W. Smith, national president, and M. H. Aylesworth, executive manager, of the National Electric Light Association, who are attending the Middle West division convention of that organization at Hotel Statler, the farmer reveals more in the increased output of his hens, due to the advent of electricity, than in muzzle lights, electric curling irons and automatic milking machines.
For it is said that a high-powered light placed in a hen house and switched on during the night causes the fowls to believe the sun has risen.
They get up and do their duty, and the result is that egg production has increased 20 per cent.

The most important economic development seen by the association's officers in recent years is the conservation of power due to the interlacing of the lines of various corporations. This is being done mechanically, and does not call for any financial co-operation. Electric forces unlike other supplies, cannot be stored to any great extent. And as the amount of power needed in various districts is constantly fluctuating, instead of the surplus going to waste as formerly, it is transferred to neighboring districts as the demand warrants.

Coal Conservation.
This method of transference, with the use of water power and increased mechanical efficiency, has resulted in no more coal being used during the past seven years for an increased electrical generation of 100 per cent, than was used in the previous like space of time.

Besides generative machinery having been bettered, the light bulb has so been improved during the past 15 years that the same amount of current now furnishes 300 per cent more light.

A continued saving in coal is expected because of the increasing use of water power. There now is in use 2,500,000 horsepower from water plants, 12,000,000 more horsepower rights have been applied for,
and it is believed there is 54,000,000 potential horsepower available in America.

Radio as a means of high-power transmission is thought unlikely by Smith and Aylesworth, because in wireless telephony but little force is required. The sending through space of this force would be most difficult, they believe, and it is the force—or amperage—which is necessary to the use of machinery.

Power in Terms of Horse Labor.
Martin Insull of Chicago, in a speech delivered before the convention today, said 21,000,000 horses working 10 hours a day, 300 days a year, would have been required to furnish the equivalent of the power produced in 1922 by the electric light and power industry of this country. Last year, Insull said, these companies delivered 65,000,000 horsepower hours of energy to their customers. This caused a tremendous increase in power-plant facilities, and a corresponding increase in the next five years would make it necessary to double the existing equipment.

At yesterday's session, Louis H.
Egan, president of the Union Electric Light and Power Co., spoke on "Customer Ownership of Public Utilities," during which he said that his company had had no difficulty in disposing of its stock to its customers, and he believed that partnership of subscribers in corporations not only could be effected but was desirable. Paul W. Brown, editor of America at Work, addressed the session on "Relation of Electricity to the Last Phase of Industrial Development."

The convention will close today with the election of officers. A national convention will be held in New York for four days, beginning June 4.

THURSDAY
APRIL 12, 1934
MAN, 23 TIMES ARRESTED, IS SHOT, BLAMES PASSERBY

Police Wonder if He Was One of Four Repulsed in Attempted Holdup—Wound Serious.

When Eugene Harris, 24 years old, of 4471 Olive street, was taken to the city hospital in a private ambulance at 12:35 a. m. today with a bullet in the left side of his back, he said the shot came from a touring car at Nineteenth and Chestnut streets.

Police have not been able to find anyone who heard a shot at Nineteenth and Chestnut streets and are wondering if Harris was one of four men who were repulsed with a fusillade when they tried to hold up James L. Farrell's saloon at 330 Lemoyne road at 11:30 p. m. or if he was not mistaken somewhere for Isadore Londe, Egan gangster, whom he resembles.

There are reasons for conjecturing that Harris may have been shot while on some dubious enterprise, as he has been arrested 23 times since 1919 and would be doing five years in the penitentiary now if he had not appealed from his conviction of robbing Murf' Maples of 1131 Blendenplace of his diamonds on June 15, 1921.

Harris' version.

The way Harris tells it, however, he was riding peacefully along when he killed his engine. He got out and cranked it and was in the act of climbing into his car on the left side when a touring car sped past, going west, and he heard a shot and felt a pang in his hip. He drove to Grand and Lindell boulevards and picked up Helen O'Toole and drove to a doctor's office at King and highway and Delmar boulevard. The doctor said the wound was serious and called the ambulance, and Harris went to the hospital, accompanied by the girl.

Miss O'Toole's version is slightly different. She said she had been to the West End Lyric and was standing at Euclid avenue and Delmar boulevard when Harris came along in his coupe. She got in and he drove downtown, and was returning out Chestnut street when the engine was killed and Harris was shot.

When Harris was told that the girl said she was with him when he was shot, he said if she said so it must be so.

The girl gave 4600 Delmar as her address, but admitted she did not live there. She said she lived with her aunt, who did not know about her running around with persons like Harris. She was with Harris when he was arrested in Chicago and brought back to be tried for the Maples job.

Harris, as far as the police know, has no gang affiliations, but the O'Toole girl is a friend of Isadore Londe's sweetheart.

The four who visited Farrell's place drove up in a sedan. One, wearing a mask, entered and requested everybody to "sitk 'em up."
Farrell opened fire and confided to the police later that he "sent them a lot of steel jackets." The man beat a retreat to the sedan and the four drove south. Farrell thinks he hit the robber.

Harris' wound is serious. An X-ray will be taken to locate the bullet.

MORE THAN EIGHT MILLION PACKAGES OF BLACK AND WHITE ARE SOLD YEARLY

Sale Each Year Growing by Leaps and Bounds, Is of Tremendous Importance to Women.

Although placed on sale only a few years ago, such complexion necessities as Black and White Cleansing and Peroxide Cream, as well as many others, are now out-selling most of the older and better known articles, and for no other reason than their unusual merit, uniform quality and popular low prices.

Many druggists and dealers who sell toilet articles say that they have never seen the equal of Black and White Beauty Creations for solving the skin and complexion problem for old as well as young women who had never before been able to find the right method of caring for their skin.

A few years ago Black and White Beauty Creations were unknown. Today they are selling at the rate of more than twenty thousand packages a day. For every one of the 365 days in the year, a total of more than eight million packages are sold.

From the biggest stores in the country, to the smallest corner drug store, Black and White Beauty Creations are being sold in ever-increasing quantities with the result that the manufacturers have been forced to move into larger quarters three different times during the last four years. Even the present plants, which occupy a total floor space of 100,000 square feet, are taxed to full capacity in the effort to keep up with orders received every day from all parts of the country.

ADMIT HE KILLED PARALYTIC FATHER TO END HIS MISERY

"Nobody Wanted Him and I Was the Only Friend He Had in the World," Son Asserts.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 12.—George Virgin, 43 years old, was arraigned in City Court today on the charge of murdering his father, John Virgin, 73, living on the Strintown road, late yesterday. When the charge was read Virgin replied, "Guilty," in a loud tone. He was bound over to the Circuit Court without bail and the grand jury will investigate the case.

Virgin, who is a sign painter, had been spending a few days in St. Louis and East St. Louis, where, he said, he resided. He returned home Wednesday; he says, for the express purpose of killing his father, to whom he had always been devoted, members of his family say.

Father a Paralytic.
The father had been a helpless paralytic for seven years and the son said he thought it would be a good thing to end his sufferings by killing him. The elder Virgin lived with one of his other sons, Christ, two miles west of the city. Near the home stands a slaughter house that Christ owned.

Yesterday afternoon George went to the slaughter house and told Christ that he guessed he would "go up and see the old man and take him for a walk." Christ replied that the father was in bed and could not walk. George then went to see his father, according to the alleged confession he made to the police, and, pulling him out of bed, rolled him down a hill near the house. There was a spring at the foot of the hill, and near it a tank. George said he carried a hatchet with him.

Body Thrown in Tank.
When the foot of the hill was reached, George took off the father's clothes, according to his confession, and hit him on the head with the hatchet several times.

He said his father made no outcry and that after the son thought he had killed him, he threw him in the tank that contained about 37 inches of water. He then returned to the slaughter house and told his brother Christ and a man named Blair, who works there, that he had killed the father. Christ Virgin and Blair, accompanied by George, went to the water tank and there found the father struggling and crying for help. They took him out of the tank. George assisting, and carried him up the steps of the house. George sat down on the steps and waited until the ambulance came. The father was removed to a hospital and died several hours later.

George, in his confession, said that he loved his father and that he could not stand to see him suffer. He said he was not sorry for his act, as he felt he had done it in the interest of humanity.

Says He Made a Mistake.
"The mistake I made," he said, "was not choking him to death with a rope around his neck and then using a rock to the rope and throwing the body into a creek. Then I should have run away and no one would have known that I did it."

George said that he had thought over the matter a long time and felt that the only thing to do was to kill his father and get him out of the way.

"Some people will condemn me for this act," said George, "but I feel like I did the best thing for father that could have been done. His sufferings are over now. Nobody wanted him and I was the only friend that he had in the world."

Sent Money to Father.
The two brothers of George Virgin said that George up to the first of the year, had sent him $3 to $10 every week to the father. George also said that a few years ago he bought a house and gave it to his brother Christ on condition that he would give the father a home as long as he lived, and that Christ let the house get away from him for a small sum of money.

George admitted to the police that he had been drinking "moonshine" whisky yesterday and that he was under the influence of liquor when he assaulted his father.

The prisoner was married a few years ago, but his wife is now dead. His mother also is dead. Neighbors said that the slayer had told them he once tried to kill himself in St. Louis.

THREE NEGROES ACQUITTED OF VAGRANCY CHARGES
Defendants, Known to Police as Pickpockets, Proved They Had "Place of Residence."

Three negroes, who the police say are pickpockets, were acquitted of vagrancy charges by Police Judge Homer today and a similar charge against a fourth negro defendant was nolle prossed because in each case the accused could show a place of residence and evidently was not penniless.

any police character," Gayser commented. "They all can show place of residence and generally have a lot to this class of defendants."

Jeff Davis' Messages
NOT THROUGH THE UNION LINES

By the Associated Press.
NEW ORLEANS, La., April 12.—A smiling negro girl with a basket on her arm had little trouble passing through the Union lines about Baltimore and Washington, D. C., 12 times during the Civil War, and take a message from Montgomery to take a message to Baltimore. The girl was passed back and forth to and from the Confederate capital at Richmond. The small negro, now 78 years of age, is here from St. Louis to attend the Confederate reunion. "She" is Maj. J. M. Crowley, formerly a Louisiana, who was one of the personal couriers of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.

Maj. Crowley's first assignment was given him at Montgomery, Ala. President Davis desired a courier to take a message from Montgomery to Washington, which since has been disclosed as a communication to the British Minister. Davis put it up to the Cabinet to name the courier, and Maj. Crowley, then only 16 years old, was given the job. Attired as a civilian, he mounted a horse and 29 days later was in the city by the Potomac. Later he made 23 round trips through the lines into Washington and 15 into Baltimore.

Maj. Crowley finally was captured near Alexandria, Va., while in disguise, and was sentenced to be shot as a spy. Several women, touched by his boyishness, interceded in his behalf with Secretary of War Stanton, the sentence was commuted and he was sent to a prison camp at Columbus, O.

"I got my only wound there for crossing a dead line," he said. "A Yankee got me in the back with a bayonet."

HELD BY POSTAL AUTHORITIES

Man Said to Have Advertised for Labor Arrested.

MIAMI, Fla., April 12.—Advice received here today tell of the arrest of St. Joseph, Mo., by United States postal inspectors of Harry H. Long, who is said to have been advertising for 5000 to 6000 men to come to Miami and work at wages of $6 to $12 in his "huge marine products plant."

Each applicant for a job was asked to inclose $1 as a fee for the investigation of his character and physical condition, it is said. Since late in March the Miami Chamber of Commerce has been receiving three to five letters daily asking for information about Long and his company. Neither Long nor his "huge marine products plant" had ever been heard of here and the postal authorities were notified.

JEFF DAVIS' MESSAGES
OUT THROUGH THE UNION LINES
J. M. Crowley, Then Boy of 16, Made 22 Such Trips Disguised as a Negro Girl.
By the Associated Press.
NEW ORLEANS, La., April 12.—
A smiling negro girl with a basket on her arm had little trouble passing through the Union lines about Baltimore and Washington, D. C., 13 times during the Civil War, and wondered how certain information was passed back and forth to and from the Confederate capital at Richmond. The small negress, now 71 years of age, is here from St.
Louis to attend the Confederate reunion. She is Maj. J. M. Crowley, formerly a Louisianian, who was one of the personal couriers of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.
Maj. Crowley's first assignment was given him at Montgomery, Ala.
President Davis desired a courier to take a message from Montgomery to Washington, which since has been disclosed as a communication to the British Minister. Davis put it up to the Cabinet to name the courier, and Maj. Crowley, then only 16 years old, was given the job. Attired as a civilian, he mounted a horse and 23 days later was in the city by the Potomas. Later he made 25 round trips through the lines into Washington and 11 into Baltimore.
Maj. Crowley finally was captured near Alexandria, Va., while in disguise, and was sentenced to be shot as a spy. Several women, touched by his boyishness, interceded in his behalf with Secretary of War Stanton, the sentence was commuted and he was sent to a prison camp at Columbus, O.
"I got my only wound there for crossing a dead line," he said. "A Yankee shot me in the back with a bayonet."

formally made claim in court.When the Lewis property was appraised a method of computing inheritance taxes was followed in consistency with an interpretation of the law by Attorney-General McCall-ister. The appraiser was required to include the sum which had been paid off as the "widow's exemption" her share of the estate to the tax paid, thereby making the exemption part of her taxable share. This method was in effect about three years until July, 1931, when Attorney-General Bannister ruled that the proper way of computation was to leave out the widow's exemption as part of her taxable share.In the Lewis estate the exemption of the widow was fixed at $15,000 and she was taxed $16,000 on the basis that the total value of her share including the $15,000, was $142,667.30. But it is now contended that in view of the present Attorney-General's ruling the tax against her should have been $10,700 and that the Probate Court, which approved the original assessment, did not have jurisdiction to impose a tax against any sum which was legally exempt.Disallowed on Technicality.
The Attorney-General, representing the State, opposes the claim on the technical plea that Mrs. Lewis, having submitted to the jurisdiction of the court at the time the tax was levied, and paid the amount charged without taking an appeal, cannot after final judgment successfully appeal the point. It was set forth in a brief filed by Assistant Attorney-General Stratton that a decision for the plaintiff would result in the setting aside of approximately $40,000 in final judgments in other estates similarly affected, thereby giving back the right to collect a refund of alleged overcharges.A decision handed down on Monday by Probate Judge Holtcamp sustains the contention of the Attorney-General. In dismissing Mrs. Lewis' claim the Judge said she had waived the right to present her plea as to jurisdiction. However, her counsel argued yesterday that this was only the beginning of the contest and that an appeal from the Probate Court's decision would be taken to have the matter determined in higher courts. In giving his decision, Judge Holtcamp mentioned he was of the opinion the former method of computing the tax was not the right way, but the system was followed in accordance with the ruling of the Attorney-General.Harry Minister for Japan

LEGALITY OF STATE INHERITANCE TAX LEVIES ATTACKED

Claim for Refund if Upheld May Compel Return of $1,000,000 Collected From Widows.

FIRST INTERPRETATION OF LAW ABANDONED

Ruling by Probate Judge Here Against Woman, but Her Lawyers Announce
They Will Appeal.

Alleged wrongful interpretation of the inheritance tax law of Missouri, by which the interests of widows in estates were excessively taxed, has given rise to litigation designed to obtain from the State Treasurer a refund of the excess paid.

The interpretation which is the basis of the claims was rendered by the State legal department during the administration of Frank W. McCallister as Attorney-General. The total is said to be approximately $1,000,000, and involves legality of many inheritance tax judgments in this city and elsewhere in Missouri.

Nature of Claim at Issue.

The matter is at issue in a claim of the St. Louis Probate Court in the name of Mrs. Virginia Lewis of Westmoreland place, widow of Robert L. Lewis, who died four years ago. She alleges she was overcharged $450 and asks that the excess be returned. It is a test case, according to her lawyers, Irvin V. Smith and Robert A. Roessel, and final decision will also determine the rights of many others having similar claims, some of whom are represented by the same counsel. It was stated, but none of whom has actually made claim in court.

When the Lewis property was appraised a method of computing inheritance taxes was followed in conformity with an interpretation of the law by Attorney-General McCallister. The appraiser was required to include the sum which had been paid off as the "widow's exemption" her share of the estate to be used, thereby making the exemption part of her taxable share. This method was in effect about three years until July, 1921, when Attorney-General Barrett ruled that the proper way of computation was to set out the widow's exemption as part of her taxable share.

In the Lewis estate the exemption of the widow was fixed at $15,000 and she was taxed $4150.70 on the basis that the total value of her share, including the $15,000, was $142,967.30. But it is now contended that in view of the present Attorney-General's ruling the tax should have been $307.70 and that the Probate Court, which approved the original assessment, did not have jurisdiction to impose a tax against any amount which was legally exempt.

Disallowed on Technicality.

The Attorney-General, representing the State, opposes the claim. For technical plea that Mrs. Lewis, having submitted to the jurisdiction of the court at the time the tax was assessed, and paid the amount charged without taking an appeal, cannot now bring her final judgment successfully upon the point. It was set forth in a brief filed by Assistant Attorney-General Stratton Sharrel that a decision for the plaintiff would result in the setting aside of approximately 1000 final judgments in other estates similarly affected, thereby giving the right to collect a refund valued at over $1,000,000.

A decision handed down on Monday by Probate Judge Holtcamp sustained the contention of the Attorney-General. In dismissing Mrs. Lewis' suit the judge said she had waived her right to present her plea as a condition. However, her counsel announced yesterday that this was only the beginning of the contest and that an appeal from the Probate Court's decision would be taken to the circuit court.

In giving his decision, Judge Holtcamp mentioned he was in opinion the former method of computing the tax was not the proper way, but the system was followed in accordance with the ruling of the Attorney-General.

COURT AND LEAGUE SEPARATE BODIES, HOOVER DECLARES

U. S. in Entering World Tribunal Would Not in Any Sense Become Member of Latter, He Asserts.

ADVOCATES ACTION AS STEP TO PEACE

Replying to Critics of Mr. Harding's Proposal, He Denies Political Entanglements Are Involved.

By the Associated Press.
DES MOINES, Ia., April 12.—American membership in the permanent court of international justice, organized by the League of Nations, was advocated by Secretary Herbert Hoover here last night as "an essential step" in the direction of world peace.

Those who have opposed membership in the league itself, he said, need not hang back from participation in the court nor fear political entanglements through its operation. He replied directly to criticisms by Senator Borah of Idaho, who, he declared, really wanted now to go "further" than the American people were willing to follow him.

Secretary Hoover spoke before the annual convention of the National League of Women Voters and his address was the first detailed reply from administration quarters to those who have assailed the court proposal since it was laid before the public.

Sketch by city engineers of the suggested building to the right of the viaduct would be used for the Wabash Railroad has not announced its plan for replacing this present station.

Good of distrust or else because harsh suffering has made them more fearful to the menace of war. "But the adhesion which President Harding proposes to the international court is strictly limited by carefully drawn stipulations which will no doubt be fully considered by the Senate. All we do if we ratify President Harding's proposal—all the promises we make—the only obligation we take are these, and only these: We promise to pay a share of the running expenses of the court, a matter less than $40,000 a year; and we promise to take part with 46 other nations in the choosing of the judges. The judges are men of international reputation, who sit in peace and are free of all prejudices except to maintain principle and law.

"There is another section of opponents of President Harding's proposal who condemn the idea, not because they do not agree to its primary purpose and method, but solely because it was erected under the auspices of the League of Nations. But we are not by this act entering the League in any sense. The connection of the court with the league is indeed remote. Its sole relationship is that the judges are elected as provided in its own statute, not by the league, but by the representatives of the nation to the league acting as an elective body for this purpose. It is this elective body that we join, not the league."

No other nation can summon us into court except with our consent. The court itself cannot summon us in, nor in any manner or degree exert upon us any kind of compulsion, not even moral. Our proposal to enter the court and the act of adhesion to it which President Harding has asked, is based upon the assumption that compulsion is not necessary for peoples of good will and a sense of justice.

"It is true that part of the other nations, in joining this court, have joined it in a slightly stronger degree. These other nations have been moved either because they have greater faith in the processes of international co-operation than America is able to show in its present mood of distrust or else because harsh suffering has made them more fearful to the menace of war."

City Engineers' Plans for Viaduct at Delmar Boulevard and Wabash Tracks

that we would be obligated to its jurisdiction. Senator Borah's international court in its relation to the nations would be somewhat of an analogy to the Supreme Court of the United States in its relation to our states.

"Now, by all means let us have no quarrel—on the contrary, let us have admiration and respect—for those who show the vision and the courage to go this whole distance. But let us admit that as a practical matter, for reasons familiar to all of you, America is not ready to go this far."

POLITICS WOULD RULE LEAGUE COURT, BORAH DECLARES

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The lines of opposition to President Harding's international court proposal within his own party were drawn tighter today.

While Republican Senators of the regular school, like Watson of Indiana, were sounding warnings against the political consequences of pressing the court issue, Senator William E. Borah, Republican, Idaho, made a reply to Herbert Hoover in which he asserted that the league court, "like the whole international field," is to be governed by political forces, and not an impartial code of justice.

For this reason, the Idaho Senator declared, he is opposed to the league court. At the same time he announced his intention of conducting a fight for a "real court"—one in which international law is codified and justice may be dispensed unhampered by the political prejudices of the countries involved.

Opposes Borah Proposal.

"Another section of the opponents of President Harding's proposal condemn it because it does not go far enough; because it has no teeth in it. This is the basis of Senator Borah's objection. I admit the enlightenment and the courage of his position. He would have an international court of such strength that it would try war itself and would have us join it in such a manner."

as to what he says an international court should be," said Borah. "I only disagree with him as to what the league court is."

"Mr. Hoover says: 'The international court is to deal in a judicial way with questions which arise under international treaties and under established international law; to provide a place where judgment may be given on the merits of a great multitude of questions for the settlement of which there has been no process, except negotiations on their reference to arbitration.'

"That is precisely what I would like to see—an international court to deal in a judicial way with questions arising under international treaties and under established international law. That is the kind of a court which I proposed in my resolution. What I contended for was: First, the codification of international law. You cannot have a court unless you have a code of laws under which it is to act and under the sanction of which it is to make decisions.

"You can no more have a court without law than you can have life without air. But the present court has no jurisdiction, except by consent of the parties. In other words it cannot construe international treaties or international law unless the parties see fit to submit a question in a way of arbitration."

"Court of Arbitration."

"This court cannot acquire jurisdiction except by consent of the parties which, of course, makes it a court of arbitration and places control of the court and of all questions relative to the court under the direction and control of the political influences of the different Governments."

"The inference from Mr. Hoover's address last night would be that this court has power upon the initiative of any country to acquire jurisdiction to construe treaties and international law. But it has no such jurisdiction."

"We now have a court which was established at The Hague some years ago and this court has acquired jurisdiction in precisely the same way that the proposed court would. Both of them are courts of arbitration. Two arbitration tribunals do not make one court."

"After the codification of international law, I would write into the code that war as an institution is illegal, a crime. So long as a few men have the same right to choose war that they have to choose peace and escape wholly unscathed as they do, you will always have war."

"Look over the record of the last three years. The leading nations of Europe were pledged to the arbitration clauses of the league. They were pledged to conciliation and respect for each other's territory. Yet, in every vital question which has come up for the last three years in Europe, the Governments have voluntarily chosen war instead of arbitration. I would outlaw war as we outlawed piracy and duelling."

"Mr. Hoover says: 'America is not ready to go this far.' Well, if the different Governments are not ready to be governed by international law, then it is clear they propose to be governed in future, as they have been in the past, in international affairs, purely by political machinery and through political forces."

"It is also clear they are not willing to create a court which cannot secure jurisdiction except by consent of political forces, that they intend to reduce the court to mere impotency. In other words, the whole international field is to be governed by political forces, except in such minor questions as they may be willing to submit to arbitration."

"I have not criticized the international court proposition in principle. I believe in it thoroughly. I have always believed in the creation of an international court, that is, a real, judicial tribunal. What I say in regard to this Government is that we ought to try to make this a real court, a judicial tribunal, a body governed by law and not by intrigue and secret diplomacy and politics. I believe we can do it—certainly it is worth while to try."

"We ought not to be contented with an impotent tribunal such as we already have. For, while I am not opposed to arbitration tribunals, yet, under the practice which has prevailed, they have been rendered impotent by the intrigue and politics in Europe."

Drawing of the proposed Delmar boulevard viaduct over the Wabash Railroad tracks, construction of which has been ordered by the State Public Service Commission at a cost of $538,000. The viaduct will be 100 feet in width and 1561 feet in length. The sketch shows the viaduct as it would appear near the center, above the tracks, with Hodiamont avenue connecting at the right, and Des Peres avenue (to be constructed after the $11,000,000 River des Peres sewer is built) connecting at the left.

To the right of the viaduct is a plan suggested by city engineers for a new Delmar Railroad station, replacing the present station of the Wabash, and at the left the ground plan of a suggested building for commercial purposes.

International court, that is, a real, judicial tribunal. What I say in regard to this Government is that we ought to try to make this a real court, a judicial tribunal, a body governed by law and not by intrigue and secret diplomacy and politics. I believe we can do it—certainly it is worth while to try."

"We ought not to be contented with an impotent tribunal such as we already have. For, while I am not opposed to arbitration tribunals, yet, under the practice which has prevailed, they have been rendered impotent by the intrigue and politics in Europe."

VAUCLAINE ASSAILS GOMPERS AS 'ENEMY OF PROGRESS'

Declares Time Has Come to Cease
'Propaganda and Agitation and Come Back to Life.'

By the Associated Press.
HOUSTON, Tex., April 12.—Taking a stand for the "open shop" and attacking Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor as an enemy of progress, Samuel McVauclaine, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works of Philadelphia, yesterday addressed 700 business men and Chamber of Commerce officials at a luncheon here.

"As for this so-called open shop movement," he said, "I have had an open shop all my life and will have one as long as I live. My shop opens at 7 o'clock every morning and I am there to see that it is open. I see that my employees are there, my clerks and foremen."

"I believe in labor union, one I believe in entirely, and that is the one with the constitution that was written in 1776; the one that provided that a man may work where he pleases, for whom he pleases and when he pleases. The workmen in my shop work ten hours each day and can work longer if they care. My night men are there 12 hours and they, too, can work longer. Work is the cure for industrial ills."

"Gompers is making threats as to what dire mishap will befall President Harding in his event he declares in favor of the open shop. Who is he to make such statements and what has he done and what is he doing to build up industries?"

"Now is the time to stop this propaganda and agitation and come back to life. I see ahead a great crisis and if it is not met certain lines of business will fall. Get out here and stir up your voters. Keep political demagogues out of office. Let's have less legislation and there will be less law broken. Let us look at our own affairs and during the next five years we will have prosperity the likes of which we have never had before."

TWO CITY BLOCKS RECOMMENDED AS AUDITORIUM SITE

Advisory Committee Urges Entire Area Between Market, Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Clark Be Utilized.

NEED MORE GROUND, ENGINEERS ADVISE

Committee, Headed by Talbert, Submits Summary of Facilities to Be Considered for New Building.

Enlargement of the proposed site for the Municipal Auditorium, to take in all of the two city blocks between Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Market streets and Clark avenue, thus affording adequate space for the building and for traffic facilities, was recommended yesterday by the Municipal Auditorium Advisory Committee, meeting at City Hall. The $87,372,500 bond issue, voted Feb. 9, provides $5,000,000 for the auditorium and site.

Plans made thus far for the Auditorium call for condemning about two-thirds of the area between Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Market and Clark.

The recommendation was adopted after a committee of engineers reported additional ground would be necessary for driveways, street car tracks and station, to enable handling of large crowds without delay. The Advisory Committee's recommendation will be placed before the Board of Public Service, together with a summary prepared yesterday of the reports on facilities that should be included in the building.

Engineers' Recommendations.

The Engineering Committee, headed by Charles M. Talbert, made the following recommendations, to be considered in plans for the Auditorium:

Market street front to be arranged with independent vehicular approach, with several unloading stations, each on a level with the main floor of the building.

All approaching and departing lines to be one-way traffic.

That an approach be provided at the west, preferably at Walnut street, where vehicles may enter building and leave by another exit.

Widening of Market and Olive streets, under the street widening item of the bond issue, will meet ordinary automobile parking requirements and it will be unnecessary to condemn additional property for parking space.

Provision to be made for parking in the basement, or exhibit space of the building, if a detailed study shows it feasible, and not an element of danger, either from fire or gases.

An illuminated, electric vehicle call system to be connected with each block containing parking space for the Municipal Auditorium.

Taxicab stations to be located near Auditorium.

A space approximately 100 feet wide, across the width of the site, to be reserved for street car tracks at the rear of the building. This space should be arranged so it can be inclosed, and cars collected in advance at entrances. A portion of this area should be covered, and overhead, walks and steps lead to each space between tracks.

The grade of the street car tracks should be arranged to permit entrance of a steam railroad track into the building.

Large entrances should be provided at the four faces of the building. Elevators should not be used for handling the general public inclines or stairways should be provided.

Special attention to plans for ventilation, heating, lighting, acoustics, intercommunication, loud speaker devices and floor covering.

Opposition to Banquet Hall.

Thomas H. Glancy, a hotel manager, chairman of the subcommittee on concessions, said the committee report had not been completed, but declared the Hotel Men's Association is opposed to a proposal for a banquet hall or cafeteria in the Auditorium.

He said installation of such facilities would cost $125,000 to $200,000 and they would be in use only a small part of each year.

"The hotel men are assisting the St. Louis Convention Bureau in bringing conventions here and paying a large proportion of the taxes," Glancy said, "and we believe that when people are brought here to conventions they should be allowed to scatter throughout the city at meal times, and not spend all of their time under one roof."

Reports of several other committees were incorporated in the Advisory Committee into one report to be presented to the Board of Public Service. As has been related, these committees recommended a three-story building, including an exhibit space of not less than 125,000 square feet, a large auditorium seating 12,000.

The Bombing Committee.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE POST-DISPATCH:

YOU are to be congratulated upon the selection of this editorial entitled "A Bomb in the City Hall."

The expert committee as mentioned in the editorial adopted the methods of all bomb-throwers by not giving those whom they were going to bomb a chance to prepare to defend themselves. They did not give the members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, or Mr. Conroy and myself, any chance to gather the data which you mention in your article. They were indeed surprised to find that the power plant employees' representatives would be allowed to sit in at the conference. We happened to be in the Comptroller's office to ask that if there were any matters taken up by the board affecting the men whom we represent, we be permitted to be present.

You state that perhaps the administration will sit in profound silence and permit the spring baseball news to form a smoke cloud. If you were telling the truth you would have to admit that the members of the board requested the Bombing Committee to present all of the parties interested with a copy of the contents of their bomb, so that the matter could be taken up at another meeting.

Up to date, the Bombing Committee has failed to furnish me with my copy. You state that you are 100 per cent for such expert unofficial investigations. We are in the same boat with you on any investigations, but are opposed to parties being termed experts who have no knowledge of conditions in the city. When I asked the qualifications of the investigator, my question was not answered. If he was an expert, I should think he would be proud to state his qualifications.

We are always willing to furnish data on practical lines, as to why we are of the opinion that our members are furnishing efficient services to their employers, and are always ready to listen to just criticism, but have no time for surface survey, such as these experts have made. We do not care whether the city is operated by one or two men, as long as they give us a chance to present our side of any controversy that may arise. We are satisfied with the actions of the board thus far, and will be ready to furnish data whenever the Bombing Committee is ready for action along practical lines.

Save the Courthouse.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE POST-DISPATCH:

I AM glad to learn there is a protest against the proposed demolition of the old courthouse and the erection in its place of an office building.

We have but three interesting spots in the downtown section of our city—Eads Bridge, with view of the river; the old Cathedral and the old courthouse.

To the cosmopolitan visitor, our parks, streets, residences, museum, library and schools are of little interest. He has seen the like in other cities. Architecturally and historically, the old courthouse and its show place. At least, it has been to my friends from other places, to whom I have shown our city. Its continuance as a structure has another value, i. e., that of health, as one of the few spots downtown where there is sunshine, that enemy of disease.

R. T. ERHARDT.

Getting Well Organized.

SEVERAL weeks back, you published a dispatch saying that the Missouri Legislature was framing a law that would prohibit doctors from charging more than 50 cents a throw for whiskey prescriptions. Much more recently another dispatch announced that this legislative act had been perfected and quoted its provisions. Did it gratify the thirsty citizen by fettering the excellent doctor with a 50-cent limit? Not exactly. It provided that the doctor must not charge more for a whiskey prescription than he had the heart to charge for some other prescription. It also provided that the patient must have a physical examination. The doctor is obviously entitled to pay for the examination; therefore, if he adheres to the letter of the law and charges only $2.45 for the prescription, he ought to be able to break even by charging $3 or $6 for the examination.

This incident shows the strength of the doctors' union, the weakness of the ultimate consumer, the peculiar disposition of the Legislature and the wonderful luck of the bootleggers. This new tariff on legitimate booze will surely enable the enterprising bootlegger to earn a honest dollar or two by boosting the price of his poison. It is clear that the booze consumers need to organize. So long as they continue to scramble individually for their lubricants, the best they can hope to get is the worst of it. Service men right too. The champion optimist of this generation is the fellow who solemnly hopes to make the grade without the aid or consent of any union on earth.

BONE DRY.

THE TOTTERING BRITISH MINISTRY.

The Bonar Law ministry has extricated itself from the predicament occasioned by the defeat of a Government motion, but the strategy precipitated a riot, precluded by the chant of "The Red Flag." The Government's defeat, it is explained, was technical. The explanation, however, does not alter the fact of the waning confidence in the present premiership, which appears doomed to an early fall.

Some of the reasons for the Government's unpopularity are obvious. Conspicuous among them is its temporizing attitude toward the Ruhr invasion. Probably any other Government would have been similarly hesitant, but with a polemicist like Lloyd George in control there would be a spokesman capable of meeting criticism and plausibly defending the policy. Bonar Law is not gifted in that way. He has no talent for dressing difficult situations in pretty epigrams. His genius seems to be proverbially British—that of doggedly sticking to a course, determined somehow to muddle through. The times, apparently, call for a subtler craftsmanship, for the resiliency and resourcefulness of the Georgian quality.

The French blunder, grave as it is, is but one of England's perplexities. The problem is multiple. It includes unemployment, devastating taxation, a troubled Ireland and on top of it all the Asiatic burden which, in the judgment of the American diplomat, Charles R. Crane, is "the growing menace to the British Empire."

The Asiatic situation traces back to the war, to the promises made in the exigencies of that conflict which have not been kept, with the result that British prestige is impaired and murmurs of revolt are heard throughout the entire East, with occasional acts of violence, which because of England's depleted finances, have to be blinked at.

Mr. Crane's opinion is based on long familiarity with the East, which has been refreshed by a recent visit. His conclusion is that the British Empire is carrying too big a share of the white man's burden, and that that truth is gradually seeping into the consciousness of the English people. In Mr. Crane's words, "the situation as far as the civilized world is concerned is perhaps more desperate than it was when the Germans were at the height of their power." And it is seriously aggravated by our gospel of isolation and our determination, sometimes coldly polite, sometimes vituperative, to let Europe survive or perish as she may.

Mr. Crane may be unduly pessimistic. He may be giving rein to his imagination. There is nothing imaginative, however, in the tottering story of the Bonar Law Government, and there is nothing in the facts to warrant the presumption that any other Government would actually accomplish much more or fare much better. Just what the United States should or could do is, of course, a question. Mr. Crane does not suggest material assistance. He believes if we should manifest a sincere sympathy with Europe and with England's staggering efforts the effect would be inspiring. Be that as it may, one thing is certain: If the British Empire collapses under the load the last supporting prop to the crumbling world order will have been removed and the ensuing chaos will ride roughly into our security, unmindful quite of distance and factitious isolation.

If Washington is looking at London as a disinterested spectator Washington is making a bad mistake.

HARDING'S BETS.

If Wall street had been betting on the lineup of the Justices of the Supreme Court on the minimum-wage decision and had offered 10 to 1 that Justices Sutherland and Butler would vote as they did, there would have been no takers.

Chief Justice Taft's obiter dictum that "it is not the function of this court to hold congressional acts invalid simply because they are passed to carry out economic views which the court believes to be unwise or unsound" was not in fact addressed to the parties at bar but to the reactionary members of pre-determined economic views in his own court.

The decision, which virtually annuls laws against starvation wages for women and girls in more than a dozen states, brings out the importance of presidential appointments to the court. On this decision the four Harding appointees split even. The fact that Chief Justice Taft did not vote with the majority of five is a tribute to the detachability of his mind from his known economic and political predilections. The decision is more than likely to influence Congress in favor of submitting a constitutional amendment.

A HURRY CALL FOR THE DOCTOR.

ment providing that a larger majority of the court be required in declaring acts of Congress unconstitutional. There is a difference of opinion as to the extent that the required majority should be increased. This point in turn may be influenced by the Harding policy of admitting to the court men notoriously lacking in the judicial quality of mind.

BONUSES AND BLOCS.

In his speech at the annual dinner of the local Manufacturers and Merchants' Association former Senator Thomas of Colorado lightly sketched what might be called the evolution of special privilege. He predicted that the next Congress would give a bonus of $5,000,000,000 to the ex-soldiers, in which the case of the battle of Washington will participate along with the boys who did the fighting. Other bonuses, he said, will follow. There will be legislation, too, to stabilize the price of wheat at $1.50 a bushel and presently our bounteous Government will take the impetuous lawyer under its subsidizing wing. All this was predicated on the fact that raiding the public treasury has become an obsession which infects almost everybody.

Turning from bonuses to blocs Mr. Thomas described the latter as "a fusion of individuals according to interests rather than principles." He pointed out, however, that the tariff, which is largesse for the select, was a forerunner of the bloc, just as was the antitrust legislation, with its special exemption. Similarly, the speaker might have traced the genesis of the bonus to the pension policy framed and carried out by the Republican party for political purposes and which, probably, was the most efficient vote-purchasing agency ever organized by that or any other party.

It should be observed, perhaps, that the opprobrious term of bloc was never affixed to the tariff crowd. Still, a bloc by any other name can be just as sordid. And now evolution is at work. Where formerly the special privileges were an exclusive group, now everybody, more or less, is a special privilege and is undertaking to get his share of the spoils by the same strategy and tactics which the tariff barons showed to be so efficacious.

Altogether, Senator Thomas' speech was an interesting exposition of legislative tendencies. An apt text for it would have been the familiar admonition that the evil that men do lives after them.

AN EMINENT WOMAN'S 50-CENT HAT.

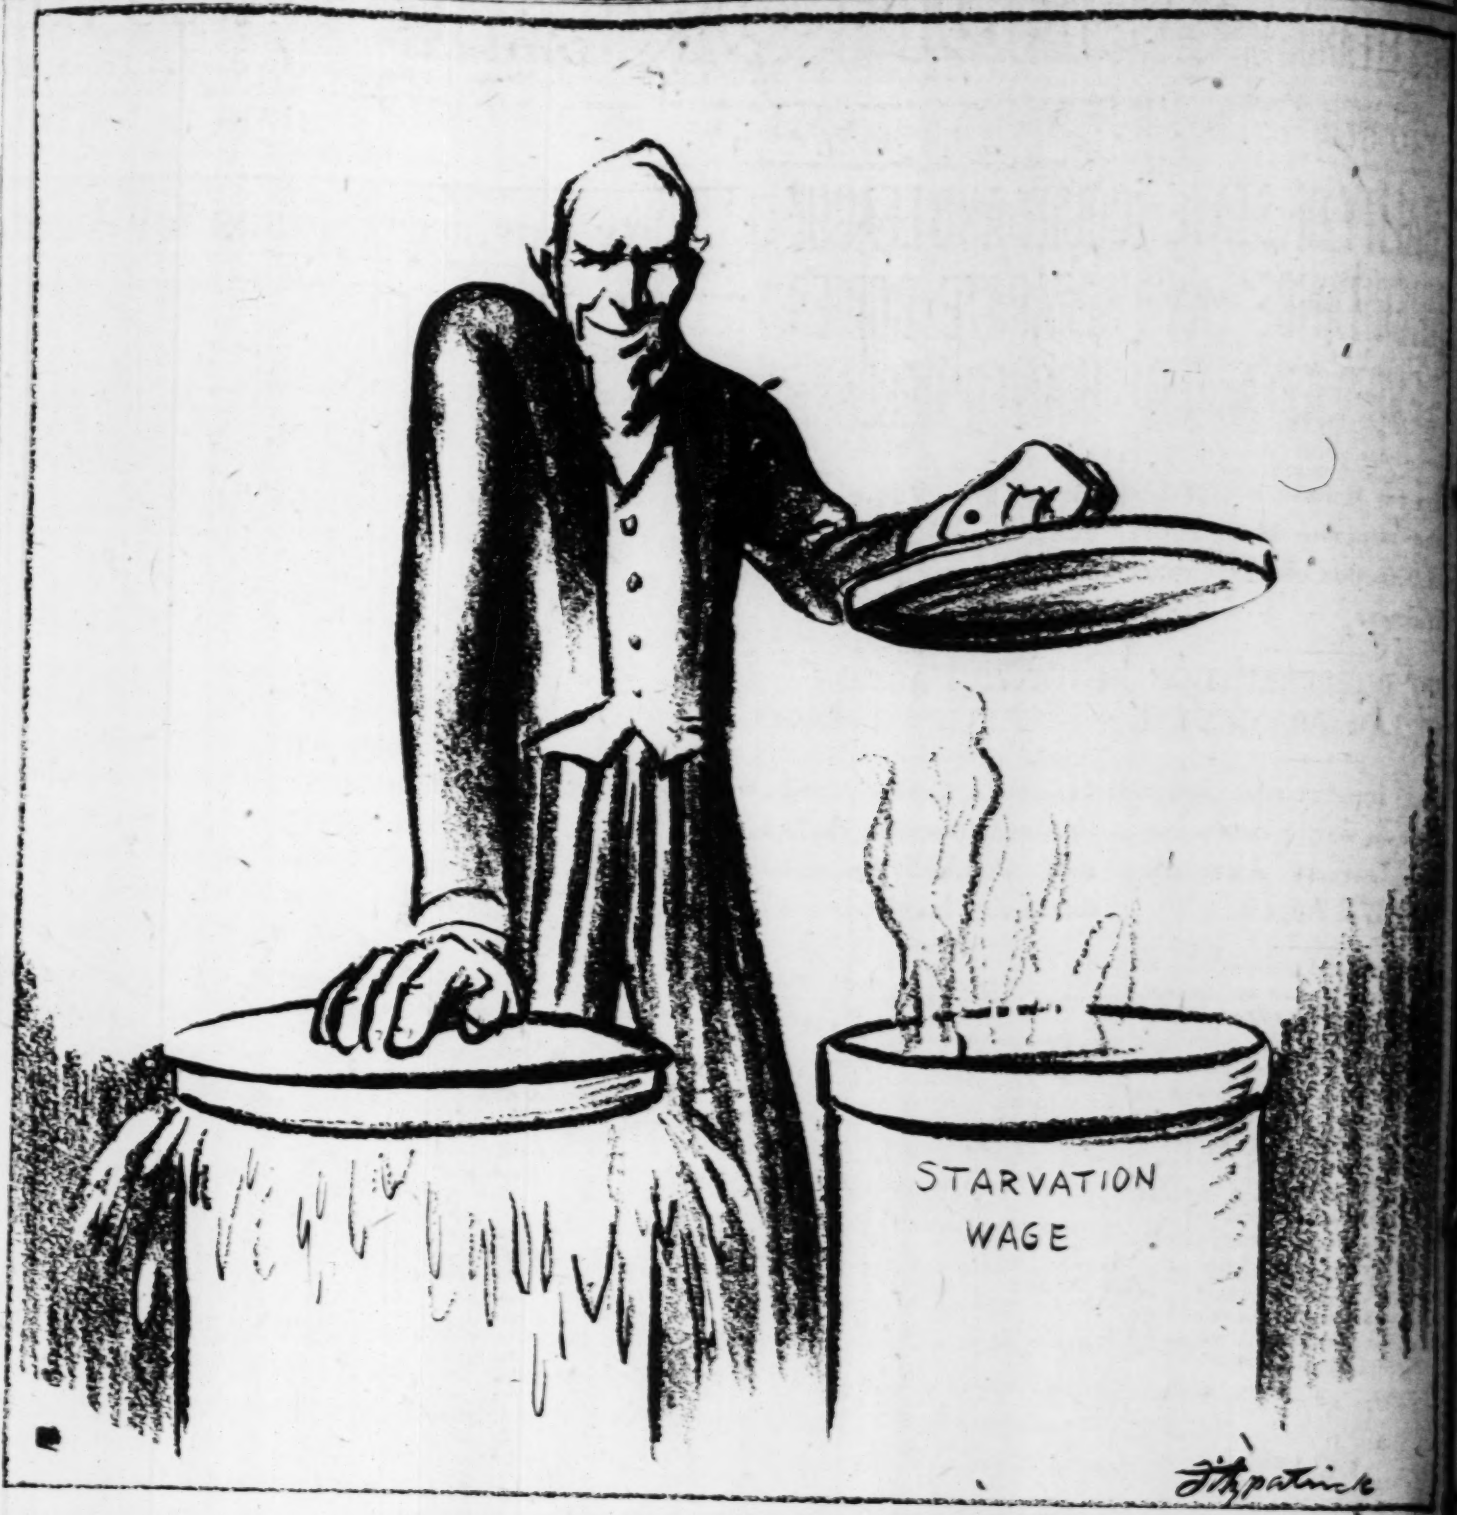

Mrs. W. H. Felton of Georgia, the only woman who ever sat in the United States Senate as a member of that body, broke into the news the other day wearing a new spring hat. The hat, she explained, had cost her 50 cents. She appeared rather proud of her financial achievement. What will the women of the country think about it?

For years woman has poured skin, energy, craft, finesse, toil and tears into educating man to an appreciation of the new spring hat and acquiescence in the price thereof. It has been a Herculean job. Is all this labor to be lost? Certainly the expensive hat has been put on the defensive. If a woman who held the high office of Senator can contrive a new spring hat for four bits, why should a woman who may never even have sat on the platform when a distinguished sister was speaking presume to invest a King's ransom in a bonnet? That is the argument likely to be advanced by the grolightly logical male. How may it be answered?

Perhaps an answer may be found in the former masculine judgment that woman was not fitted for public office; that she does not comprehend the noble obligation of it; that she does not realize that once elected to place and power she is ever afterwards a public character and must deport herself accordingly, and, emphatically, must dress the part.

Clearly Mrs. Felton has not so construed the obligations of her ex-senatorial rank. In her case the wearing of the toga for a day has culminated in a 50-cent hat. If that is to be the effect of office on woman, if her esthetic, decorative nature is to be warped, corroded and disfigured by the spoils of politics, then man, for once, was right, and woman is wholly disqualified for the responsibilities of state.

Anyhow, it will be acknowledged frankly by every man who abhors war and values peace that woman's place is not under a 50-cent hat.

JUST A MINUTE

By CLARK McADAMS

MOST Europeans coming to this country in the last 50 years had known nothing of the individual residence dwelling or house. It was something only very rich people had abroad, and perhaps nothing else so impressed themselves on the minds of the newcomers as this, that even humble people might aspire to such a home. It is with undiminished sadness that we see ourselves becoming Europeanized in this respect. Several American cities have sought to emphasize the extent to which the people lived in houses by calling themselves "The City of Homes." We have done it here, Cleveland has done it, San Francisco has done it. No city has dared to boast that she is "The City of Flats and Apartments." Not even New York, which might easily do so, has boasted of being "The City of Homes." Only in homes is this pride aroused, and with the passing of time the pride of the Germans are more homes there shall remain for them than regret with which we think of the buffalo. Not much sentiment will attach to the new era now taking the place of the old. The poet Hood sang melodiously of the little house in which he was born, but we have yet to see any poet strike his lute in musical memory of his native flat.

Someone makes the point that recognition of the soviet government in Russia would have been the lesser of two evils. The greater evil is what happens when the great foreign nations are without embassies in Moscow to give her the sort of things that happen in the recent execution of Mr. Budkiewicz. The foreign embassy is civilization's greatest stabilizer. None of us is sufficiently civilized to be left alone. Yet the proposal of such an intrusion of world opinion upon every capital was received with the usual cries of dismay. One European monarch is reported to have said that he would gladly welcome to his court such a spy from any country that would let him send two in return. The effect of an embassy is so well known that despite our refusal to recognize the present Mexican Government, we have constantly maintained in Mexico City an American charge d'affaires. He has no official standing in Mexico City—but he is there.

"Are you married?"
"No, suh. My scar head on mah head is wheah a mule done kicked me."

PLUG, THE BONEHEAD.

Plug was a bonehead through and through. Always happy with lots to do—Would tackle the hardest job with glee. For his muscles were tough as the hickory tree. His body was strong as a toughened brass. Though his brain was that of a simple ass. Plug swung his pick from morn till night. And never disputed the master's right. Plug went to heaven and traveled straight. But stood defeated inside the gate. Of beauty thou dost love shall yet refrain. A golden harp, well strung and new. "A harp!" said Plug, and his voice was flat. "What the hell can I do with a thing like that? Give me a golden pick, I pray. With eternal work and an endless day." H. CLEEVE, in the Macmillan Worker.

SPRING SONG.

When I go west at evening
The sky is soft and red,
And lot of song wakes in my heart,
The song I thought was dead—
For Winter and its cheerlessness
The Joy of Spring instead.

You may not think that looking Out Olive street from Grand One's heart because the sky is red
Could see the Promised Land;
Or for so little one's dead song
Would wake at Spring's command.

But such is Spring's great magic,
Or how one's song may die,
Or how long desolate within One's cheerless heart may lie—
It only needs at evening
To see the April sky.

Anyone fond of amusing speculation will find entertainment in the report that the Germans are said to believe that passive resistance in the Ruhr is slowly wearing the French down, and some Germans are even saying that Gandhi is greater than Marx. One cannot help feeling at times that the Germans beat anybody for trying things out. They certainly proved to everybody's satisfaction that militarism defeats itself, and if there is really anything in passive resistance the Germans are pre-eminently the people to prove it. It is safe to say that no Occidental has believed in it. The whole Western world would have to pinch itself to believe it practicable if it proved itself so. There is only one country which could authoritatively say it is practicable, only one whose assurance the whole Occident would accept. That is Germany.

THE SONNET—III.

In my No. 2 I gave one of Guittone's sonnets. Guittone was followed by a host of sonnetters, foremost among whom were: Francesco Petrarca, the Archbishop Giovanni della Casa, Torquato Tasso, Dante Alighieri, Michael Angelo and Ludovico Ariosto. I have said that Guittone's sonnets nearly all have what is called the Shakespearean arrangement, of rhymes. Eight of his sonnets, however, have the Petrarchan arrangement, and this came to be the established form. Says Charles H. Crandall in his "Representative Sonnets of American Poets": "In its rhyme arrangement, therefore, is its vitality and individuality, the chime-music that Francesco Petrarca (1304-1374) set ringing for all time! Yet disaffected poets will persist in tampering with this time-tested form of the sonnet."

Petrarch wrote over 300 sonnets. He "had a sweet, flexible voice of great compass and composed and sang his sonnets to his lute." Here is his sonnet No. 241: "Levomi il mio pensiero"—translated by Thomas Wentworth Higginson:

Dreams bore my fancy to that region where She dwells whom I seek, but cannot see.
Mid those who in the loftiest heavens be
I looked on her, less haughty and more fair.
She took my hand; she said, "Within this sphere,
If I hope deceive not, thou shalt dwell with me."
I filed thy life with war's wild agony:
Mine own day closed ere evening could appear.
My bliss no human thought can understand;
I wait for thee alone, and that fair veil
Of beauty thou dost love shall yet refrain.
Why was she silent then, why dropped her hand
Ere those delicious tones could quite avail
To bid my mortal soul in heaven remain?

COLLEGIATE TRAINING.

From the Brooklyn Eagle.

THE recent report of the Carnegie Foundation stirred far-reaching discussion of the college education, participated in by many of the leading educators. We have seen nothing so frank and so constructive, however, as an address made by President Neilson of Smith College at the meeting of the Mothers' Club of the Friends' School in Brooklyn. Dr. Neilson pointed out that the development needed to meet the demand for education in this country is a greater demand of the scope of our schools and colleges, and that we should abandon our tradition that education means training in just one intellectual line, or the technical schools. Education, mathematics and a little history has come from the Renaissance and has been accepted as the best system to train the human mind.

The standard "liberal" courses are, Dr. Neilson said, the best thing for training the mind, which they fit, but they do not fit all minds. He insisted that among the youth who lack aptitude for Latin, modern languages and mathematics are many who are just as well worth educating and who offer as great promise of serving the world as those who shine in the college courses. . . . Neilson's plea is for an education so diversified that it will appeal to a wider range of taste and capacities and will develop leaders in many fields which are new to chance or the technical schools. Education has so broadened that it is no longer possible for one person to know about everything, which our traditional idea of the college graduate among the fields neglected and which offer the best mental training. Dr. Neilson stressed music, of which the Greeks made a foundation, geography, dropped in our grammar schools, in which the University of Paris has five faculties, and the social sciences, just beginning to attract attention and to suggest opportunities for the technical schools. . . . We know that we are not alike, but many educators insist on teaching all our children in one way, and on making them step to the same slow music through school and college.

FLORIDA PEONAGE.

From the New York Call.

THE publicity given by The Call a few weeks ago to the Florida peonage, which cost the life of a North Dakota farmer boy, has also attracted the first page of the World. From all quarters this boy was taken from a box car, turned over to a lumber company by a Sheriff, who received $20 for his fee as a slave catcher, and later sold a brutal whipping from which he died. The practice of selling working people and their children into private plantations for peonage in sections of the South. This case became famous because the boy was a resident of North Dakota. This system of peonage is a direct result of similar treatment of negro workers in the South. Negro workers are the worst sufferers from this brutal system of peonage. Another negro has been sacrificed by this system. It is an almost daily occurrence. President Hoover and Hughes are occupied with the labor and other things in all parts of the country. The Federal Constitution prohibits involuntary servitude of this type. If these gentlemen will give a little attention to wiping out the system of slavery that surrenders thousands in the South to sell to something to earn their salaries.

MISS ELEANOR CHASE TO WED AUSTRALIAN

Mother Announces Her Engagement to Man She Met on Trip Abroad.

THE betrothal of Miss Eleanor Chase, daughter of Mrs. Henry Everett Chase of 8524 Clements avenue, and William Grey, an Australian living in Java, which is announced formally today by Mrs. Chase, is one of the most interesting of the season's engagements. Miss Chase met her fiancé on a trip to the Orient with Mrs. Oscar Johnson of 38 Portland place, and the latter's daughter, Mrs. Fredonia Johnson Pratt, who was recently married in Shanghai to McDonald Moss. Mrs. Johnson and Miss Chase have returned to America and will arrive in St. Louis tomorrow afternoon. Plans for the wedding have not been completed, although it will take place in St. Louis, and Mr. Grey will take his bride to Java to reside. Miss Chase is a graduate of Mary Institute and the University of Wisconsin. The war intervened and prevented her making a formal debut, and instead, she, with several other girls who were to have come out that year, studied nursing at Barnes Hospital. She is a member of the Junior League.

Mr. Grey, a native of Sydney, Australia, is an engineer and a close friend of Mr. Moss. His sister, Miss Whitely of Shanghai Mrs. Johnson, her daughter and Miss Chase visited Mrs. Johnson's sister, Dr. Ann W. Fearn, and the wedding of Mrs. Pratt and Mr. Moss took place in her home.

Mrs. Louis R. von Welles of 8 Lenox place announced the engagement of her sister, Miss Grace R. Hilby, to a son of the University of Wisconsin, Mr. S. P. Payne of Athens, Pa., at an informal tea given this afternoon for a few close friends.

Miss Hilby, who makes her home with her sister, is a graduate of Bishop Robertson Hall, and has taken part in social activities for several years. She made her debut informally.

Payne is a graduate of Princeton University, and took a post-graduate course at Cornell University. During the war he served as a Major in the army. Mr. Payne has resided in St. Louis for two years, and is a member of the University of Wisconsin clubs and the Missouri Athletic Association.

The wedding will take place in the Von Welles home, May 21.

Among the visitors of the week will be the Countess Ellen Douglas and Miss Elia Brandstrom of Sweden, who will be guests over the next week-end. The Countess, a daughter of Charles Parsons Pettus, 33 Westmoreland place, Miss Brandstrom, who also is of the Swedish nobility, is among the most distinguished of the week-end visitors of the city. She is the daughter of the late Gen. Brandstrom, Swedish Ambassador to Russia. On account of her heroic work among the war prisoners, she was awarded the Order of the Star of the North. Brandstrom has been decorated by most of the European countries. She has been officially named by the Swedish Commission as their representative for the Nobel Peace prize. The visitors will arrive in St. Louis Saturday afternoon from Chicago, and depart Monday noon for the East. Much interest is being shown by society in their visit, and arrangements are being made for entertainments and meetings in their honor. Among them will be a dinner party Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nagel at their home, 44 Westmoreland place.

Mrs. Charles Benjamin Paris of 4449 Westminister place has had as her guest for the week Mrs. James R. Gable. The visitor has departed for her home in California. During her stay several social functions were given for Mrs. Gable and shared honors at a number of them with Mrs. Inez Clark, also of Columbus, who is visiting in the city. Monday Mrs. Paris gave a bridge luncheon for her guest and Mrs. Clark at the Bellevue Court Club, and last Saturday Mrs. S. T. G. Smith was hostess at a similar affair at her home. Mrs. Clark returned to Columbia today. Mr. and Mrs. Paris' daughter, Miss Marjorie Paris, is attending the Confederal reunion at New Orleans this week as a maid of honor on the staff of Major-General A. A. Pearl. Miss Paris' grandfather served in the Civil War under Gen. John Shelby.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Williams arrived in St. Louis Saturday, and are occupying their apartment in the Kingsbury, 591 Clara avenue. The expected return to St. Louis of Mrs. Williams was Miss Lettinga Parkes, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George W. Parker. Their married life was taken in Paris, France, and Mr. Williams' brother-in-law, and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Irving H. Williams of the Kingsbury, will return home about April 29 from Hingham, Va.

Announcement is made of the marriage yesterday in Phoenix, Ariz., of Miss Elizabeth Hennessey of Phoenix, and Dr. Vincent L. Jones, a resident of St. Louis, and nephew of Mr. Joseph P. McNulty of 4419 W. 13th boulevard. Dr. and Mrs. Jones came to St. Louis after the honeymoon trip, and will make their home at 27 North Taylor avenue. Dr. Jones is a graduate of the University of Chicago, of Webster, Grover, and other things in all parts of the country. He is an alumnus of the University of Chicago and of the University of Denver at Denver, Colo.

St. Louis Women's Club. The club will meet at 10:30 a.m. at the club house, 1000 North Broadway.

LICK ECLIPSE PHOTOS CONFIRM EINSTEIN THEORY

Director Campbell Says Demonstration Was So Satisfactory That Further Tests Will Not Be Made.

By the Associated Press. SAN JOSE, Cal., April 12.—Dr. Albert Einstein's theory of relativity has been so satisfactorily proven by experiments made by the Lick Observatory expedition which photographed the eclipse of the sun in Australia last year that no further experiments will be made, Dr. W. W. Campbell, director of the observatory, announced last night.

Photographs of stars made at night on the island of Tahiti, three months before the eclipse, and pictures of the same stars, taken in conjunction with the photographing of the eclipse at Wallal, on the northwest coast of Australia, on Sept. 21, 1922, show a bending of the star's rays, Dr. Campbell said, as close to the amount prescribed by the Einstein formula as "the most ardent proponents of Einstein's theory could hope for."

The average deflection on three sets of plates measured, he added, was 1.75 seconds. The measurements covered a minimum of 62 and a maximum of 84 star images on each pair of photographic plates. "Two photographs of the eclipsed sun and its immediate surroundings were obtained in Australia, with each of two specially constructed cameras, with lenses having apertures five inches in diameter and focal lengths of 15 feet," Campbell said, in explaining the experiment.

Star Images Recorded. "The four sensitive plates, each 17 inches square, recorded the images of several scores of stars in the group surrounding the sun, though these stars were many million times as far from us as the sun. The same cameras were used on the island of Tahiti three months earlier to photograph the same stars when they were in the night sky and without the sun in their midst."

"Three of the four Australian plates and the corresponding three Tahiti plates have been compared and the results for the bending of a stellar ray just grazing the sun's edge are in close accord."

Einstein's theory, according to Dr. Campbell, is much more comprehensive than a mere hypothesis that light is bent in passing large celestial bodies. The theory in its larger proportions involves a radical change in the scientific attitude toward the universe. One of the elements of the theory is that light is deflected when it enters a gravitational field.

Time and Distance Relative. There is also involved in the theory the assumption that the influence of gravity on any substance varies with the velocity of the substance in motion. Light is less subject to the force of gravity than are tangible substances.

The Einstein theory of relativity gets its name, it is explained, from the fact that it deals with time and space as relative things, distances having meaning only in the relation of objects to each other in space. The same, it is alleged, is true of time, it being measured by the relation of events and subject to motion for its existence as a method of measurement.

As far as the man in the street is concerned, Dr. Campbell does not expect his confirmation of the theory to make any appreciable difference. It will not affect baseball, taxes or prohibitions. But in astronomy and in physics its importance is expected eventually to be noticeable.

One of the more abstruse elements of the theory is that the maximum velocity which anything can attain is 186,000 miles a second, the velocity of light.

Not all astronomers agree with Dr. Campbell. Prof. T. J. J. Government astronomer at Mare Island said today he did not believe the Einstein theory capable of proof.

Prof. V. M. Slipher, head of the Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., however, said he had confidence in Dr. Campbell's confirmation of the theory.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulisid coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulisid at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonsful of Mulisid in a cup or glass with a little warm water is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub the Mulisid coconut oil in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulisid.

Not all astronomers agree with Dr. Campbell. Prof. T. J. J. Government astronomer at Mare Island said today he did not believe the Einstein theory capable of proof.

Prof. V. M. Slipher, head of the Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., however, said he had confidence in Dr. Campbell's confirmation of the theory.

West End Business Men Oppose Any Change in Program

A resolution opposing any deviation from the public improvement program submitted in the election of Feb. 9, last, when a bond issue of $57,522,500 was voted, was adopted last night by the West End Business Men's Association, which met at the Melbourne Hotel. Speakers said several moves had been started to change the plans for some of the improvements, but made no reference to any specific attempt.

The World's Greatest Salesman

The daily newspaper as we know it in North America is the world's greatest salesman.

Every day, every where, it is carrying the great message of commerce, bringing buyer and seller into profitable contact.

The sales it makes per year total in the billions.

Its customers are in every home, in every office, on every farm.

Its cost per sale is less than any other salesman, for not only is it the world's greatest salesman in volume but also in efficiency.

The biggest problem in merchandising today is high selling costs. Newspaper advertising, sent on the job of looking for sales where buying habits offer profitable opportunities, is the surest means of keeping down this vexatious item.

Write the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, 604 World Building, New York, for a copy of its book, "Today in the Newspaper."

AMERICAN HISTORY FOR CHILDREN

Chaos Resulted When Negroes Gained Political Power, and Juries of Them Settled Cases of Which They Could not Understand a Word.

FINE HOMES FELL INTO RUIN.

By HENDRIK VAN LOON,
Author of "The Story of Mankind."

IN 1869, one more amendment to the Constitution was adopted, the fifteenth. It read as follows: "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude." This was intended, of course, as further protection for the negroes. No State Legislature could now deny them the right to vote. The old slave states were for a while completely under the power of the blacks and of their white supporters. Of the latter, there were two classes. One, known as "Scalawags," were Southern Unionists, belonging as a rule to the poorer families. They were men of little or no education, and felt that the war had come to triumph over their more fortunate neighbors. The other class was composed of Northern adventurers, who had come south to make as much money as easily and as quickly as they could. They were called "Carpet-baggers," from the name of the small trunks (grandfathers of the suitcase) in which they carried their few personal belongings.

As soon as the negroes began to vote, ambitious individuals among them began to come forth as political bosses, and demanded positions with the Government as reward for the number of votes they were able to control for the Republican party. Most of these colored leaders were contented with minor offices, but some ran for state tickets for the Legislature, and a few were even sent to Congress. As these negro politicians had absolutely no education, you can easily imagine the chaos which soon prevailed in the country, while the political corruption was past belief. The colored legislators amused themselves by furnishing the statehouses with gorgeous clocks and chandeliers, hand-painted cuspidors and expensive carpets, paying for these objects of art with the money which should have been used to put their bankrupt country back upon its feet. Negro Justices of the Peace, who could neither read nor write, were appointed, equally ignorant negro school commissioners drew fat salaries, and negro juries settled involved legal questions, of which they could not understand a single word. The position of the better class of Southerners was pathetic in the extreme. Their money was all gone, their lands were ruined, perhaps sold for unpaid taxes or mortgaged to ex-slaves. Many men went insane, crazed by the loss of all that life held dear. Others, who all their lives had known nothing but the luxury of their great estates, with slaves to wait upon them hand and foot, took positions as clerks, agents, any insignificant little job they could find. The women, whose husbands had been killed in the war, became governesses, housekeepers, or seamstresses. The few families who had managed to hang on to their estates, made pathetic efforts to keep up appearances. Their servants were gone (here and there a few faithful slaves refused to make use of their freedom, and remained with their old masters), carriage and saddle horses were worn out at the plow, and replaced by mules; lawns and gardens fell into decay. No wonder that the old men and women of the South look back upon the time "before the war" very much as Adam and Eve must have looked back upon the good old days in Paradise after they were shut out of that charming locality.

Readers who clip and preserve these articles will have a splendid collection of historical facts. Valuable for reference or for supplementing the study of history by children.

EL PASO, Tex., April 12.—One of the richest strikes in copper-gold in recent years was made yesterday at the 800-foot level in the United Verde Extension mine at Jerome, Ariz., according to the news received here from officials of the mine. Copper is 50 per cent and gold $18 a ton in the new strike, it is reported.

UPPER MISSISSIPPI SHIPPERS QUERIED ON FREIGHT PROSPECTS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
DAVENPORT, Ia., April 12.—Col. T. Q. Ashburn, chief of the inland and coastwise waterways of the War Department, and Congressman Harry Hull of Iowa, member of the House Committee on Military Affairs, arrived in Davenport today to learn from shippers of the Upper Mississippi Valley how much freight they would offer for transportation upon the Mississippi River should the War Department extend the Mississippi-Warrior barge service north from St. Louis.

If the War Department is successful in its litigation to obtain the Coltra barge fleet, it is its intention to establish an experimental service on the Upper Mississippi.

About 100 business men from several states and cities are expected to attend the conference.

Departments: Banking Bond Corporation Real Estate Loan Real Estate Public Relations Safe Deposit Savings Trust

THOMAS JEFFERSON, born in Virginia on April 13, 1743, wrote the Declaration of Independence 33 years later. In 1800 he was elected President of the United States. Three years later, on April 30, a treaty was signed in Paris transferring the Louisiana Territory to the United States for $15,000,000.

¶ We owe much to the vision of Thomas Jefferson. It is our obligation to justify his faith by building up the country in which he had faith . . . and to match his vision with our own belief in the bright future of American business.

JEFFERSON'S ORIGINAL DRAFT OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

BANK CREDIT, by building business in the Valley, is helping Commerce to capitalize the vision of Thomas Jefferson.

¶ By gearing bank credit to business, and making possible the improvement of property through Real Estate Loans, the Mercantile Trust Company is helping business men to capitalize their own vision.

ST. LOUISANS had the vision to vote $87,000,000 in bonds to improve a small part of the ground that once sold for $15,000,000.

¶ Bonds play a part in progress, and the Mercantile Trust Company is fortunate in being able to help finance progress by distributing bonds to the investing public, whose money is thereby safeguarded.

"Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness"

AS JEFFERSON sent Lewis and Clark to explore the new country, so must we explore our possibilities. As Jefferson wrote that all men are entitled to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, so must we write our Declaration of Independence—in a savings passbook.

¶ His message gave the Continental troops something to fight for. It made liberty possible. The passbook gives us something to work for. It makes happiness possible.

Without saving,
the pursuit of happiness becomes a losing race!

'I'M WELL,' SAYS VANDERLIP, AFTER DIABETES TREATMENT

Financier Doesn't Claim Insulin Has Cured Him but Feels Snappy and Easy Heartily.

Special to the Post-Dispatch
NEW YORK, April 12.—Frank A. Vanderlip, who went to Southern California several months ago suffering from diabetes, has returned. "I'm well," he says, after receiving the insulin serum treatment for diabetes developed by Dr. F. G. Banting of the University of Toronto. He went West ailing, thin and rather weak. He looks today much as he did when at the head of the National City Bank. He is not quite up to weight but the old snap and go are there and he feels younger.

"I do not claim that the serum has cured me of diabetes," said Vanderlip. "But it has made me well. I have an appetite like a hired man and I can eat anything; yes, even rare beef and boiled potatoes, something a diabetic patient cannot look straight in the eye."

"I am still taking the serum and expect to continue doing so for a long time. It is administered in the form of a hypodermic injection and, while something of a bother, is a trifle compared with my former worries."

"Before I began taking insulin I was afraid to eat anything. I was tired and depressed most of the time, and living on a diet with a dismal future outlook did not help matters any. Then I heard of the serum and decided to give it a trial. For three months I could not see any benefit, and then, almost overnight, I began to pick up."

2 MATTRESS CONCERNS CHARGED WITH VIOLATION OF STATE LAW

Mrs. Moyer-Wing Begins Campaign Here With Issuance of Warrants.

A campaign to compel St. Louis mattress manufacturers to market only sanitary, clean and healthy mattresses is now in progress. Mrs. Alice Curtice Moyer-Wing, State Industrial Inspector, said today, following issuance of warrants Monday charging two concerns with violation of the State law regulating mattress making.

The warrants are directed against Ben Chodorow and Louis I. Sandier, proprietors of the Reliable Mattress Co., 4143 Olive street, and Joseph Berkowitz, proprietor of the Mulanphy Bedding Co., 4909 Benedict avenue. Both warrants charge violation of the State mattress law of use of shoddy in mattress filling, which is prohibited.

The mattress law, passed in 1919, provides a fine of from $50 to $100 for the first offense. For the second and subsequent offenses, in addition to the fine, the court may direct the offending plant for from five to 30 days.

Cadomene

The Tonic Supreme

Is there anyone who doesn't admire the youthful woman—the woman who keeps her beauty, her sparkling spirit, her keen, alert mind, her supreme health and graceful strength? How often you meet and admire just such women—women who simply seem to glide through life, even though it be filled with cares. No matter how much they have to do—no matter how many children there are to feed, clothe and care for, they seem to do it all so easily, so cheerfully, and never look haggard, tired and worn out.

What Worries and Cares Do

The endless worries and cares that most women have, often makes them old and faded long before their time. If you are not indifferent to such discouraging tendencies towards old age—if you long for the beauty, the love, the health and happiness that were once yours—cheer up! The remarkable revitalizing power of Cadomene should bring all those precious blessings back to you. So take stock of yourself! Are you listless—devoid of ambition—do you have a feeling of "what's the use" as you grind through the unhappy days? Do your feet drag and does 10 minutes of work make you seek rest, trembling, weak and nervous? Are your nights restless and sleepless? Do your nerves "jump" and do you feel like you want to scream sometimes?

And what does your mirror tell? Are your eyes dull and tired-looking? Is your skin sallow and pale, and are your cheeks sunken? Has your once beautiful hair become thin, flat and lifeless? Have your neck and shoulders become scrawny in appearance?

"For Sale by Wolff-Wilson, Judge & Dolph Drug Stores and All Druggists"

Take Cadomene—the Tonic Supreme!

Cadomene is not just an ordinary stimulant like many so-called tonics. Cadomene goes to the very source of your trouble and builds you up in a permanent way. By aiding nutrition and by building up the blood until it is vibrant, rich and red, Cadomene aids in the complete revitalization of every nerve, every cell and every tissue in the entire body. Just a week or two after you start taking Cadomene you should notice the wonderful change for the better. You should notice the sparkle returning to your eyes; the healthy bloom to your cheeks; the sunshine and life in your hair. You should notice that you no longer tire so quickly; that your work is no longer tiresome, but a pleasure; that your nerves have quieted; and that you eat better, sleep better, feel better. Everyone will be amazed at the remarkable change. Within two weeks they will remark how much better you are looking, and finally, when those nerves, those cells, those tissues are completely revitalized and made healthy, active and strong, you may expect to enjoy that glorious feeling of supreme health, energy, strength and happiness.

Firestone

Will Not Increase Prices Until May 1st

Firestone Prices on Fabric and Cord Passenger Car Tires and Tubes, also Solid and Pneumatic Truck Tires Will Advance May 1st

The postponement of this price revision is possible only because of our realization of the price danger in the British Crude Rubber Restriction Act which became effective November 1, 1922. We were fortunate in our rubber purchases before the Restriction Act increased the price of crude rubber 150%.

We have always endeavored to champion the cause of better made tires delivered at lowest cost to the tire user by economical manufacturing and distribution. And we are glad of the opportunity to give the car owner the additional saving at this time.

Firestone Cords embody certain special processes which result in their producing mileage records, heretofore unheard-of in the industry. Among the more important of these superior methods are blending, tempering, air-bag cure and double gum-dipping.

Firestone Dealers are co-operating with us in our movement to supply your needs at present prices as long as their stock lasts and we have advised our dealers that we will supply them with additional tires this month only so far as our output will permit.

See the nearest Firestone Dealer. Purchase a set of these Gum-Dipped Cords. Prove for yourself their remarkable mileage advantages and easy riding qualities.

REILY REPORTED SLATED FOR PROHIBITION JOB

Ex-Governor of Porto Rico May Succeed Allen as Director in Missouri.

Reports in political circles are that E. Mont Reily, who recently resigned as Governor of Porto Rico after many complaints had been filed against him and after his official actions had been subjected to Congressional scrutiny, is slated to succeed William H. Allen as Federal Prohibition Director of Missouri. It is known that President Harding has a very friendly feeling for Reily and it is assumed by Republican politicians that the President will take care of him. Allen, who has been sick for several weeks, is reported to be tired of his job, and although he has denied an intention to resign, it is the expectation that he soon will decide to relinquish the office.

Reily claims to have been the original Harding booster in the United States and frequently in proof of the claim cites a letter he wrote several years before Mr. Harding became a candidate, urging him as the logical candidate. He entertained Mr. Harding in his home when the latter visited Kansas City in the last presidential campaign. Whether Reily would consider the job of prohibition director of sufficient importance for consideration by an ex-Governor of Porto Rico has not been disclosed, but the politicians hold he would if the President offered him nothing better. As Prohibition Director, his salary would be $2000 a year. As Governor of Porto Rico he received $10,000.

POST ASSUMES DUTIES AS ANTISALOON LEAGUE HEAD

Declines to Make Any Statement Regarding His Policies For the Present.

The Rev. Dr. A. H. Post, recently elected superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Missouri to succeed the Rev. Mr. W. C. Shupp, resigned, arrived here from Chicago yesterday afternoon and immediately took charge of headquarters in the Victoria Building. He was formally presented to members of the Headquarters Committee, the governing body of the Missouri association, during the afternoon.

Dr. Post reached St. Louis only two hours in advance of the Headquarters Committee meeting, having motored here. He declined to make any statement regarding policies until he has had time to become better acquainted with the work here. As has been told, Dr. Post has acted as assistant superintendent of the Illinois Anti-Saloon League for five years, being stationed in Chicago. He is a minister of the Congressional Church, but has not filled a pastorate for eight years.

When you soak—or boil—or wash in the machine this new kind of soap does the whole job

"I FIND this new kind of soap simply wonderful for soaking. But I like to boil my clothes, too, and I wonder how it is for that."

Don't hesitate for a minute! Rinso is splendid in the boiler. Just put in enough dissolved Rinso to give you the suds you want. Of course you won't need as much as you do for soaking.

And in washing machines? Here is what "1900" Cataract says: "In solution it permeates the water so evenly that its cleansing action reaches every garment. Consequently we found that we were not obliged to do any rubbing either before or after operating the machine."

Apex, Bluebird, Coffield, Gainaday, Getz, Haag, Horton, Laund-Dry-Ette, Meadows, "1900" Cataract,

One Minute, Rotarex, Sunnysuds, Surf, Trojan, Voss—all say, "Use Rinso."

One of the most comforting things about Rinso is that you don't have to change any of your washing habits at all. Do just as you usually do.

Wherever you would use bar soap use Rinso. This new soap takes the place of bar soap—does the whole washday job.

For soaking, for boiling, for use in washing machines it is the easiest and best soap you could use.

With this new soap soaking takes the place of rubbing

Only on those places where the dirt is literally ground in—where you used to do your hardest rubbing—there is now just a little light rubbing with the new kind of soap sprinkled on the spot. For the rest, all you need is just the soaking in the wonderful suds. Safely and gently it loosens all the dirt. You rinse out the clothes. And the loosened dirt just washes right out!

Rinso is made by the makers of Lux, the largest soap makers in the world. It does the family wash as wonderfully as Lux does fine things.

Now you no longer have hard rubbing even for the big family wash any more than you do for fine fabrics. Both you and your clothes are spared that steady wear and tear.

Rinso is so simple to use, too. It dissolves instantly in boiling water making rich, thick suds. No bothersome shaving of bar soap to boil up. No trouble with other soaps or with any powders. Rinso does it all.

Get Rinso today. Sold in two sizes at all grocery and department stores—the regular size and the big new package. Lever Bros. Co., 164 Broadway, Cambridge, Mass.

MRS. SMITH SAYS HER RADIO TALK ABOUT SHERIFF WAS JOKE

Member of Legislature Denies She Wants Job to Make County "A Modern Sahara." Friends of Mrs. Melicene Smith of University City, one of the two women members of the last Legislature, are making repeated inquiries of her concerning reports that she wants to be Sheriff of St. Louis County for the purpose of making the county "a modern Sahara" by strict enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment. "It was all a joke," Mrs. Smith explained today. "But a lot of folks not familiar with the circumstances have taken the reports seriously. The reports result from a statement I made in a jocular manner during a talk over the Market Bureau broadcasting station at Jefferson City, just before the end of the session. 'I had been telling of my legislative experiences and added that I had no further political ambitions. Then I laughed and added: 'Oh, yes, I have, too, I'd like to be Sheriff of St. Louis County long enough to make it a modern Sahara by strict enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment.'"

"The folks who heard my talk understood that I was only joking, but when a report of the talk appeared in newspapers my attitude was not explained and it did look as though I was seriously considering getting into the race for Sheriff."

DIPLOMATIC CLASH

State Department to Confine Endeavors to Seeing That Controversy Is Referred to Tribunal.

By DAVID LAWRENCE,
A Special Washington Correspondent
of the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1923.)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The United States Government will not get its fingers into Turkish oil. All the fears of Great Britain and France, as reflected in cable dispatches in the last 24 hours that the American Government was about to be plunged into a diplomatic battle over the merits of the oil concession controversy in the Near East were swept aside today as premature.

The American Government, it was officially announced, is not a party to the conflict between certain American citizens, who have just obtained from the Turkish Nationalist Government a valuable concession and the governments of Great Britain and France which, through their nationals, claim they had prior rights.

The Department of State feels that whether the concessions granted to Rear Admiral Chester, U. S. N., retired, and his American associates, are valid ought to be resolved by an impartial tribunal. This was the suggestion made at the Lausanne conference by Richard Washburn Child, American Ambassador to Italy, at the instance of Secretary Hughes, and it holds good today.

There is nothing on the horizon, as far as Government officials can see, which justifies American political entanglements in the Near East. Whenever American citizens acquire rights in any part of the globe, the American Government feels a natural gratification. If those rights are contested, the Department of State merely intervenes to see that an equitable adjustment is made and that justice is done.

To Follow Traditional Policy.
It is not until private parties to a controversy abroad exhaust their opportunity to get a settlement and claim that injustice has been done to them that the full diplomatic support of the Department of State can be enlisted. This is not a new policy—it is the traditional course of the Department and will be followed in this case.

In other words, the American capitalists who have just obtained valuable concessions in Turkey will be expected to iron out their difficulties with the other parties, the American Government merely assisting in the setting up of some competent tribunal. If that tribunal should decide against the Americans, that would be the last the United States Government would do about the case.

But there are aspects about the Chester concession that bear directly upon recent disputes which the American Government has had with its late allies concerning the administration of so-called mandated territory. It was officially explained today, that since the Chester concession provides for a railroad to penetrate territory supposed to be under British mandate, the meaning of these mandates or trusteeships may come into the discussion.

The United States does not understand that the mandates or charters involved in this case have been ratified by the League of Nations, or by the American Government, which claims a right to a voice in these mandates even though it is not a member of the league. It is claimed that, as the United States was one of the nations that defeated Germany, all mandates should guarantee Americans an equal opportunity with the citizens of other Powers in commercial ventures.

U. S. Position on Mandates.
The Department of State reiterates that a mandate should never mean appropriation or exploitation of resources of the mandated country, but should be confined to political administration of the regions and peoples affected.

The Turks, under this view, would have the right to grant a concession, since they have wrested the territory from the peoples who were to have been governed by a mandate.

The entire question is tied up with other matters, which are to be settled at the Lausanne conference on Near Eastern affairs, but it is considered likely that the Turks favored the American business men on the theory that the United States would be allied with the Turks at the conference.

This is based on the custom that prevails in Europe where the nationals of a country are heavily interested in business interests abroad. The Harding administration, which has tried to steer clear of foreign entanglements, will adopt a legal rather than political attitude toward the Chester concession and will not make of it the "big diplomatic incident" which Paris and London seem to think would be made of it in order to protect British and French oil interests.

Turks Need Money.
The Turks are in need of money. They have not been successful in getting it from Britain, as the latter has insisted on favorable oil concessions. This, however, involved a conflict with the interests of the French, who have been friendly to the Turks.

The United States, on the other hand, never declared war on Turkey. Also, America has money. The natural gaze of poverty-stricken Turkey is toward America, and the concession to the hester interests may have been viewed by the Turks as a tactful move, especially on the eve of the Lausanne conference.

French Protest to Turkey on Chester Concessions.

(From a Staff Correspondent of the Manchester Guardian and the Post-Dispatch and New York World.)
CONSTANTINOPLE, April 12.—Gen. Pelle, French high commissioner here, has protested to the Turkish Government against the action of the National Assembly in granting the Chester concessions to American interests for the building of railways and ports in Asia Minor.

The protest declares the Assembly's action nullified the rights granted by imperial decree in 1914 to a French company for the building of railways and ports in Anatolia.

LONDON, April 12.—Great Britain purposes entering an energetic protest against the granting by the Turkish nationalists of certain concessions in Anatolia to the American interests headed by Rear Admiral "Bibi" M. Chester, if these concessions are found to embrace the Mosul oil fields, it was declared here today.

DOUBLE-TRACKING CONTRACT

Work on Frisco Main Line to Require About a Year.

Contracts for about $900,000 have been let by the St. Louis-San Francisco (Frisco) Railway, for double-tracking the 10-mile stretch of its main line between Valley Park and Eureka, St. Louis County, including double-tracking of bridges over the Meramec River at Valley Park and Deleke. Preliminary work began two weeks ago and the job is expected to require a year.

Double-tracking of a five-mile stretch from the end of the present double line, at Windsor Springs, to Valley Park, including the tearing of an immense cut through the hill at Meramec Highlands, is nearing completion. These two projects mean the Frisco eventually will have 34 miles of double track, from St. Louis to Pacific, with other stretches out in the State.

Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Better Than Ever

There is an erroneous idea abroad. You hear it every day. "Gasoline is not as good as it used to be." The fact is that the Red Crown Gasoline you are getting today is an almost perfect fuel.

Perhaps there is no industry where progress has made such rapid strides as the refining of petroleum.

For example, we cite the Burton Process, developed and perfected in the laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). The Burton Process has enabled the refiner to bring gasoline to a point of efficiency hitherto un hoped for.

Red Crown is Made by the Burton Process

Red Crown vaporizes to the last drop. There is no waste—it produces instant starting Winter or Summer—a quick get-a-way—a smooth running engine—tremendous sustained pulling power and racing speed if you want it.

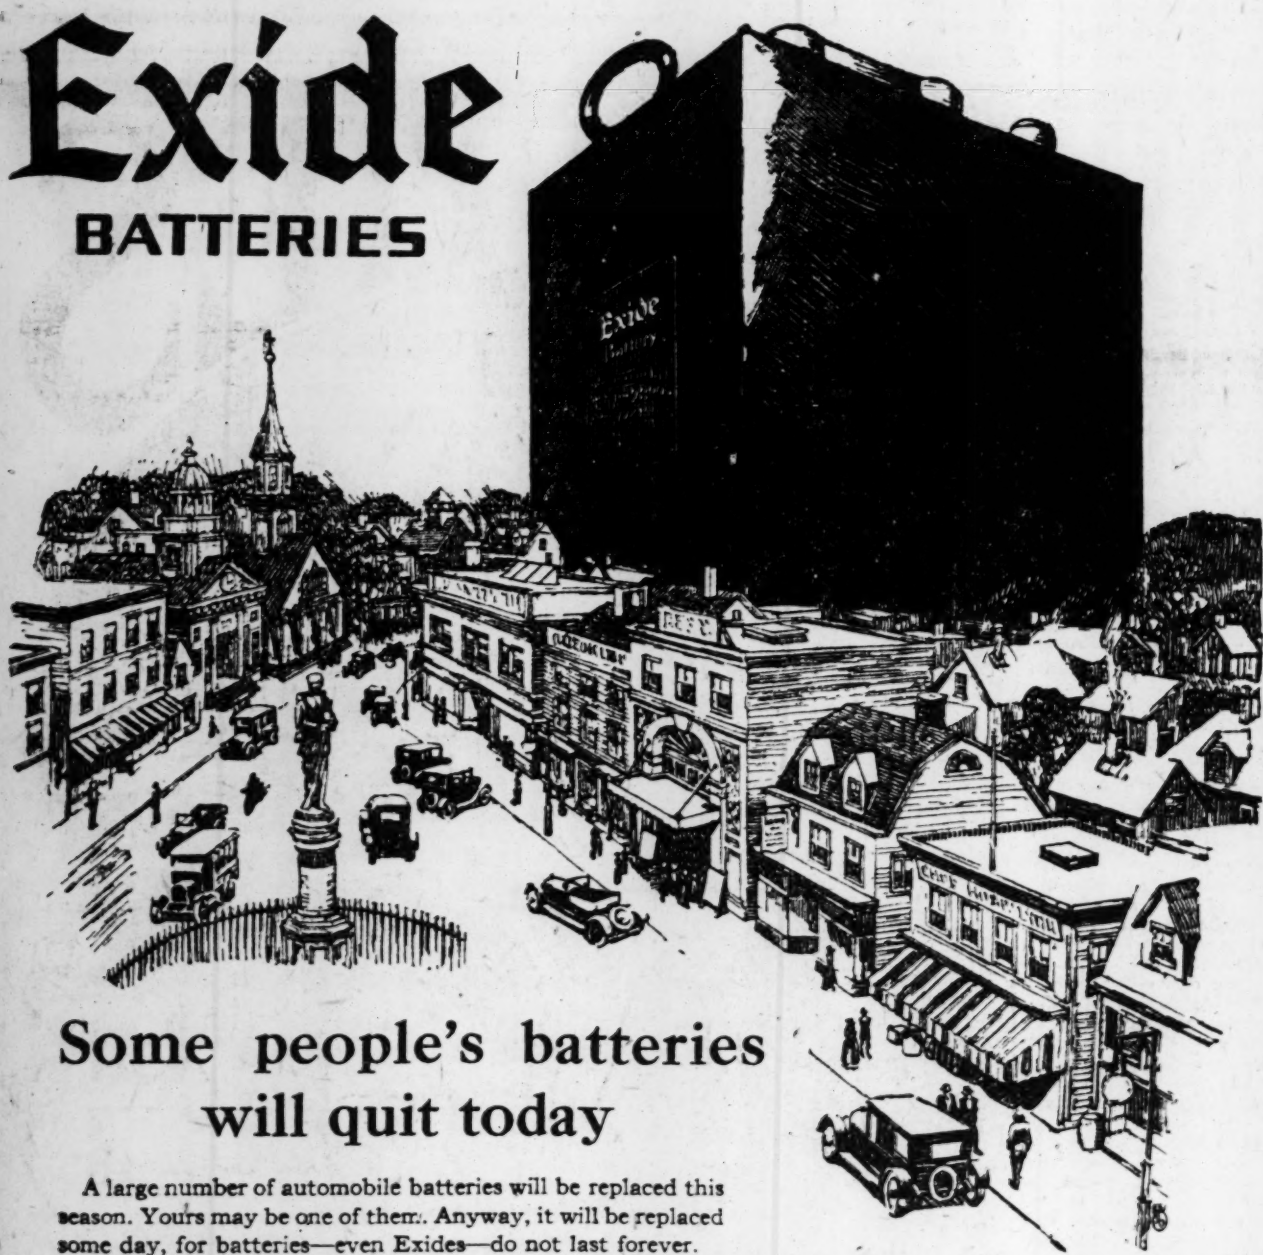

RED CROWN is made, sold and guaranteed by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). Get it at any Standard Oil Service Station and at Most Garages.

Exide BATTERIES

Some people's batteries will quit today

A large number of automobile batteries will be replaced this season. Yours may be one of them. Anyway, it will be replaced some day, for batteries—even Exides—do not last forever.

You probably know what kind of car you will buy when you get a new one. Do you know what make of battery you will buy when your present battery says, and perhaps suddenly, "I'm through?" It is highly important to your comfort and to your pocketbook to know.

You can be "penny wise" and get an untried battery "at a price," which usually means a low first price and a high last price. You can select a battery on a "paper guarantee," but paper won't start your car and keep your lights bright.

The long-life battery

If you have used an Exide Battery, you will get another one. If not, and you take the pains to inquire, you will find that Exide, the pioneer battery, is the proved battery of extra-long life—enough extra to make it the least costly battery for every car owner. With an Exide you will have the minimum of repair bills and the maximum of power, constant service, and motoring comfort.

The nearest Exide Service Station has a battery the right size for your car.

Box Fighters Should Confine Their Efforts to Holding Their Own, Instead of Holding Their Opponents

Kaiser Disqualified in Sixth Round for Hitting While Holding; Has Lead Over Osner on Points

Boxing Commission Decides Not to Withhold Peewee's Share of the Receipts—Kaiser's Opponent Fights Defensively for Four Rounds but Wins Last Two.

By John E. Wray,
Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

John "Peewee" Kaiser, St. Louis bantamweight boxer, is finding the road to success beset with difficulties. Last night at the first regiment armory, with the arena crowded to the S. R. O. point, Kaiser lost to Frankie Osner of Alton, Referee Harry Sharpe disqualifying Kaiser in the sixth round after repeated warnings. Kaiser's offense was hitting while holding.

The decision was received with cheers by some and boos by others, the cheers having all the better of it. Those who wanted to see the bout go to a conclusion, despite rule infractions, denounced the referee's ruling. Among these was boxing commissioner James B. Moran, who exchanged heated words with Referee Sharpe in the dressing rooms, after the show.

Moran declared the cash customers had been robbed by what he termed Sharpe's too hasty action. Sharpe replied that the ruling was made only after Kaiser had repeatedly made it plain he intended to disregard official warnings. Sharpe explained that the boys had been cautioned before and during the bout and that the club was standing back of him in his efforts to force clean milling.

Kaiser Very Aggressive.

The bout started out with a rush, Kaiser leaping into Osner as though he intended to flatten him quickly, but Frankie refused to be flattened. Exhibiting a fleet foot and an assortment of defensive tactics not often seen in local rings, he effectually eluded Kaiser and had the usually accurate "Peewee" punching holes in the circumambient atmosphere.

Osner danced, ducked, retreated, slipped, sidestepped, blocked and returned to every known method of defense except the hated clinch, in avoiding Kaiser. For four rounds the bout resembled a pursuit race with Kaiser in the role of stern chaser. Osner made few leads, preferring to block his foe and check him with an occasional counter. Kaiser's sharp jab, the only one he used, was a good one, although both boys occasionally showed a tendency to grab gloves.

However, it was not until the fifth round that these tactics became sufficiently apparent for the crowd to note Referee Sharpe for the crowd to note Referee Sharpe. Kaiser started out to take the lead away from Osner and was doing it. In two rallies he battered "Peewee's" jaw with his right hand, and Kaiser's rapid-fire hooks had Kaiser covering and holding. Peewee was cautioned in this period, which was the first of the bout to Osner's credit.

Shows Shake Kaiser.

Then came the sixth. Osner again eluded Peewee and took the lead himself, after a short rally. He showed Kaiser backward of balance with a shower of blows and "Peewee" "grabbed" Referee Sharpe stopped the boys and declared Kaiser was hitting Osner while holding. A moment later Sharpe again cautioned Kaiser for hitting while holding. Sharpe stopped the bout at this point and disqualified Kaiser.

At this time Kaiser had a slight lead on points, but had been more severely shaken up than Osner. The Alton boy's lip bled slightly in the fourth round—there was no serious damage done to either lad. Kaiser's famous right could not locate the elusive target, front of him.

Rickey Here in Advance of Club

Cardinal Leader Resting After Strenuous Southern Training Campaign.

Branch Rickey, manager of the Cardinals, has been in St. Louis since Monday morning in to await the arrival of the team tomorrow and to complete final arrangements for the two game spring series with the Browns which opens Saturday at Sportsman's Park.

Rickey has utilized the intervening days to rest up in preparation for the season's grind. He underwent an operation for appendicitis a short time prior to his trip South and immediately took active charge of the team. This, of course, taxed him heavily and in view of the team's success against other major league clubs, he took the opportunity to secure a much-needed rest.

Rickey has not yet decided who will pitch against the Browns Saturday but it is likely that Sherdel, Pectol or Teney will draw the assignment.

Relay Officials Named.

By the Associated Press.
LAWRENCE, Kan., April 12.—The officials who will have charge of the first annual University of Kansas relay games here April 21 have been announced by Coach Karl Schadenman of the university. General manager of the relay. The officials announced include: Honorary Referee, Dr. John Outland of Kansas City; formerly of Pennsylvania State; Referee, Louis Maderna, University of Pennsylvania; Starter, John L. Griffith, commissioner of "big league" conference, and Field Referee, Walter Eubank, Chicago.

Dutch Henry Signs Contract With Browns; Trained With Reds

FRANK "DUTCH" HENRY signed a contract with the Browns this morning, it was announced by Vice-President Quinn.

Henry, a southpaw pitcher who established a very good record with Mobile last season, was a holdout. He came to an agreement a week ago and was ordered to report here. Last season he won 19 games and lost four. His acquisition gives the Browns five left-handers: Pruett, Danforth, Henry, Bayne and Elliott.

Henry has been working out with the Cincinnati Reds at Orlando, Fla., since the middle of February and reports himself in excellent physical shape.

EASTERN STAR BOWLERS IN PRACTICE MATCHES

Members of the Eight Order of the Eastern Star bowling teams which are to open the National Women's Tournament at the Washington Allens Saturday night at 7 o'clock, will compete in a practice tournament this afternoon.

Preparations for the opening night ceremonies have not been completed but the president and secretary of the Women's National Bowling Association and the president of the local branch will be among the speakers.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 12.—Minnesota will send a team to the Kansas relay at Lawrence, Kan., April 21, it was announced today. Entries probably will include a two-mile relay team and men in the shot put and jumps.

Principals in Lightweight Championship Mat Match Here Tomorrow

At the left Champion Jack Fisher of Decatur is illustrating one of his newest holds, which combines the scissors and toe grips. Once applied, the victim has to surrender, for there is no way in which he can be turned over on his back and pinned with this combination of holds. Waseem on the right, is the challenger. Yeatman to Play Central Nine in Initial Contest

North Siders, Championship Prospects, Face Real Opposition.

Yeatman High School will make its 1933 bow to the high school baseball enthusiasts Saturday at High School Field when it will meet Central in the first game of the afternoon's double bill.

The Yeatman fans are full of confidence this season. The North End supporters have great pennant hopes. These backers claim that Yeatman will be represented by the strongest team which has worn the blue for several years. The charges of Coach Stanley Hill have had a very good pre-season record. Principals have been beaten. Eden, the Winter Cigars and several picked teams from Fairground Park have also trailed the high school team.

Infeld Looks Good. Stremmel, the mainstay of Yeatman on the hill last season, is in great form this year. The infield has been built up by players who have had much experience in municipal league baseball. Charley Hanningan will perform at first. Soroghan at third, Mulvihill at shortstop and either Steiner, Schacht or Rower at the second cushion. Blumenkamp has shown ability behind the bat and will very probably do the bulk of the receiving. Rower will be the reserve catcher. Henderson, Harding, Hannibal and Schacht are the outfielders who will receive the majority of assignments in the garden.

Coach Hill has two recruit pitchers in case Stremmel falters. Ellersack and Noll, both of whom have shown steadiness in the practice contests.

Coach Walker will very likely stand pat on the team which last week defeated Cleveland, and yesterday trimmed the St. Louis Academy. "Red" Colligan, who tied against Cleveland and pitched the closing innings against the Academy team, will be the probable starter on the hill for Central. Coach Walker has been correcting several faults which appeared in the defensive play of his team against Cleveland, and he hopes to have the Midcity defense in first-class shape for the Yeatman contest.

Cleveland and Soidan will play the second game. The champion West Enders are working hard to build up an attack. The victory last week over McKinley was not entirely pleasing to Coach Harry White. He is not satisfied with the Soidan hitting. Three hits was the total of the Browns and Gold last week and the victory was won largely through the generosity of the McKinley pitcher, who issued much free transportation.

Defense Strong. Soidan has a smooth-working defense, especially on the infield. The pitching of Crause last week was of first order and he probably will work against Cleveland.

Cleveland has been receiving a real shake-up. Despite the fact that the Carondelet team possesses one of the best batteries in the league the team looked weak against Central. The defense was very bad, and many runs made by Central were made on errors by the Cleveland infielders and meadow-men. Coach Fenenga has been working the boys hard this week and he is likely to make several shifts in his lineup for the Soidan game. Who will do the twirling for the Carondelet entry is a problem which will not be decided until the defense walls have been reinforced. Fenenga may work Reichardt in third base throughout the season and leave the hurling to the newcomers.

Cubs Have Well Balanced Staff But the Infield Is a Problem

Killefer Finds It Hard to Decide How to Fill Gaps at Second and Third — If Inner Defense Develops Club Is Expected to Finish in First Division.

No. 11.—THE CHICAGO CUBS.
By Joe Foley,
Sports Editor, Chicago Daily Journal.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Ill., April 11.—That the Cubs will finish in a first division berth is the consensus among the hard writing scribes, who were forced to bask in California's Golden Sunlight this spring with the Bruins.

While the Cubs and the experts are still out in the wide open spaces their daily dispatches to their respective employers indicate plainly that the Cubs have strengthened over their 1932 form.

Last year the North Siders finished fifth. There isn't a day that goes by but what more of the experts relate how the club is destined to better last year's mark.

In the first place, Killefer has a well balanced staff. He plans to carry seven right handers and two southpaws. Those who tow in the orthodox manner are Alexander, Cheever, Osborne, Aldridge, Keith, Kaufmann and Stueland. The southpaws are Nick Dumovich and Fred Fussell. Killefer took only three left handers into camp, the third being Martin Dumovich, brother of Nick.

The six regulars who will start should be Alexander, Cheever, Osborne and Aldridge, right handers, and Nick Dumovich and Fussell, southpaws. Stueland, Kaufmann and Stauffer are likely to form the balance of the staff.

Boy O'Farrell came so fast last year that the backstop department is the least of Killefer's worries. He can catch, field, throw, capture the foul and is one of the club's mainstays with the war club. Young Hartnett will do enough work to allow O'Farrell breathing spells and that is about all.

The infield presents Manager Killefer with his hardest problem. Of course, with Grimes on first and Holler on short, those two places are satisfactorily filled. Holler passes all other National League shortstops for the honors in that position, while Grimes is a savage hitter and a fair fielder.

Killefer was still undecided a short time ago who would draw the regular assignments at second and third. He had strong hopes that George Grantham would start the fielding problems of the keystone position in time to start there. That would make a particularly happy solution of that puzzle, as everyone concedes that Grantham should be a wonder with the bat and on bases. He has never had experience in playing second, but in the early practice games he showed such progress that it is believed he will fill Zeb Terry's place all right.

Barney Friberg will start at third, and ought to come through in good style. Friberg is lighter this spring than he has been for some years, and is therefore faster. He has good hands and a strong arm, and it seems reasonable to believe that the team is better fortified at third than it was a year ago. Jack Killefer will be available for emergency duty.

Just now Holler is laid up, but "Sparky" Adams is filling his shoes in creditable style. The infield for opening day probably will be Friberg, third; Adams, short; Grantham second, and Grimes, first. Stutz, Miller and Callaghan right now have the call for the outfield jobs. Stutz and Miller are certain to start, while Callaghan only the other day flashed through enough stuff to replace Heathcote temporarily. Another strong contender for one of the jobs is Art Weis. Heathcote, no doubt, will be in there shortly after the season opens, and it is almost certain that Miller will have to relinquish his job now and then to one of the underdogs.

Fitzgerald is another recruit who has almost forced Killefer to pay him some attention.

Bill Bremser to Hurl for Pikers in Opening Game

Conference Season Opens With Two Games With Ames Here.

Washington University's reconstructed baseball team, with only a few veterans from the last year's championship nine, will make its first Conference appearance at Franklin Field tomorrow and Saturday against the Iowa State College outfit from Ames. The games begin at 3 o'clock.

The Pikers' greatest strength this year is in the pitching staff, which is second to none in the valley. DeBolt, Conference ace, is ready to start; Bremser, a first-class southpaw, gives all indications of having a successful year; the veteran Fries, another southpaw, is ready for the call, while Lett, a newcomer, has been showing unusual ability and will no doubt break into many games. Thus the Pikers have two right-handers and two southpaws for mound duty, equipment of which no other Conference outfit can boast.

Coach Davis apparently has organized a pretty good infield, which, however, will hardly equal the performance of the 1932 quartet. Their mechanical play is not particularly smooth, but errors are few, and that is as much as can be expected from a green infield.

How the Pikers will hit is a matter for conjecture. The team showed no great advantage in this respect in the Alumni game, but there are several sluggers on the team who should reach their stride as soon as the season is under way.

Bremser will probably start tomorrow's game and DeBolt Saturday. Gragg will catch. Coach Davis has made a last minute change in the infield which promises to speed things up. Roberts has been moved from second to first in Wagener's place, and Norton has been playing second. The lineup will be: Magnuson, ss; Norton, 3b; Roberts, 1b; Gragg, cf; Fries, rf; Denny, lf; Mudd, cf; Gragg, cf; and Quinn, 2b.

Ray Cahill will umpire.

Operation on George Sisler Dependent on Condition Tomorrow

TOMORROW is the date tentatively set for the minor operation on George Sisler, first baseman of the Browns. An inflamed condition of what is said to be the ethmoid sinus has resulted in a slight pressure behind one eye and a consequent impairment of vision.

Whether the operation will be performed depends entirely upon Sisler's condition. It has been deferred once, this far, because of a slight attack of tonsillitis which George suffered on Monday last.

The four women semi-finalists are Miss Helen Gillespie, number six in the national ranking; Miss Marion Chapman, New Jersey champion; Mrs. De Forest Candee and Mrs. Edward Raymond, former Metropolitan champion.

Sisler's Illness, Failure of Ruth, Benefit Hornsby

Cardinal Sluggers Seem Destined to Win Highest Honors This Season.

The absence of George Sisler from the Browns' lineup and the recent collapse of Babe Ruth in home-run hitting combine to clear the path for Rogers Hornsby, who is destined to pass all rivals as the greatest individual figure in the game this season.

St. Louis fans are counting out for the season and New York critics draw the conclusion that Ruth is in a serious predicament far as hitting home runs is concerned. Kenneth Williams is expected to be considered a serious contender for swat honors and it appears that St. Louis will receive very much on the baseball man's plate.

Babe Ruth has fanned 15 times in 45 times at bat against Browns' pitchers in exhibition games. Tuesday's game at Tulsa, Okla., saw him struck out four times in four times at bat. There were no homers hit in the course of the game but Ruth had no finger in the game.

Fortunately for Ruth, the man who has fanned him most often this season is a National League slugger. Likely to face the Bambino all season. A young hurler named Lavan of Brooklyn struck out Ruth in his seven appearances in the field. Ruth has been driven to his stance and his swing in an attempt to come out of the delusion. He has choked his bat and tried to swing the ball in left field. The effort has at times been crowned with success but it is not likely that he will permanently change his style.

MEADOWS AND MITCHELL PITCH PHILS TO VICTORY

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 11.—The Phillies made it two out of three in the spring series by triumphing over the Mackmen at Ebbets Field this afternoon. The Phillies gathered in 12 hits to secure a 5-3 win.

The Phils had a shutoff until the ninth, when the home team scored three runs. Meadows and Mitchell pitched the five innings he worked, winning three and yielding five runs to two of them doubles by Bruce Perkin.

Mitchell took the hill in the sixth and fanned four A's and three other scattered singles. Baker was miked hard and struck the Phils.

As New Hea Flack's Leg Injury Rickey to Use Joe Schul

Regular Outfielder Suffers Recurring First Base — Carl Haines Pitching

JACKSON, Tenn., April 12.—series between the Cardinals of St. Louis and the Browns of St. Louis was called off on account of the leg injury, which put him on the straight victories, one on a fielder out of the batting order.

By Herman Of the Post-Dispatch.

JACKSON, Tenn., April 12.—fielder out of the batting order leg injury, which put him on the straight victories, one on a fielder out of the batting order.

Flack, who was going great guns and who was in great shape, went out in the seventh inning he had rounded first base on a fly to left field. Prior to that time the left had been giving the little fly chaser no trouble, and it was a shock to the athlete as well as other members of the Knot Haters when he was forced out.

There is no telling how long Flack will be missing. However, Dr. John Lavan said that his first impression was that it would be some time and that he would not be surprised to find that Flack's leg was in a cast when the team arrived home tomorrow morning.

However, Smith, who will play against right-hand pitchers, and Schultz, opposing southpaws, should be well able to take care of the place. Smith is in better shape this spring than at any time since he has been a member of the Knot Haters. He is hitting hard and no one is covering more ground in the field.

PRICES STEADIER IN DULL SESSION ON STOCK MARKET

Short Covering Main Business on Exchange—Bonds Quietly Steady—Exchange Rates Mixed.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The New York stock market today was quiet, with prices generally steady. The market was characterized by short covering in the main business on exchange, while bonds were quietly steady and exchange rates were mixed.

Exchange Rates Mixed.

In the foreign exchange market a fair amount of business was done in sterling, francs and one of the other of the European currencies. The rest of the market was quiet. Even in the case of the leading exchange movements were uncertain and indicated that the market was waiting for fresh impulses. Sterling reacted after the good recovery of the past two days and was off a cent at 144 1/2.

Foreign Bank Statements. This week's Bank of England statement discloses the usual recovery from the special demands of the cotton year. Circulation is smaller by $118,000 and deposits are smaller by $1,120,000. As a result the ratio of reserves has risen to 19 1/2 per cent, which is 1 1/2 per cent above the figure of March and shows a net gain of 48 points on the day at a late price of 24 1/2 cents.

COUNCIL FROWNS ON JUDGE'S INSTALLMENT PLAN FOR FINES

Wood River (Ill.), Magistrate Must Do Cash Business or Lose Police Business.

Paying fines on the installment plan, an indulgence which has been contributing to the popularity of Judge "Pop" Meyer, Police Magistrate of Wood River, Ill., has fallen under the disfavor of the City Council. The Judge has been given the alternative of doing a cash business or losing police patronage.

Justice, runs a furniture store. "We Strive to Please" is his motto. If a furniture customer can't pay cash, Meyer makes it so much down and so much a week or a month, to suit the customer's convenience. As Police Magistrate he has been equally obliging, permitting fines to be liquidated on the deferred payment plan. Mayor Nagel and the Councilmen talked about it at the last meeting. Disapproval of time payments was voiced. The police officers were instructed to insist that fines be paid in full when assessed and were instructed to take all cases to Justice of the Peace unless Meyer mends his ways.

JAPANESE LIQUOR IN HAWAII

Moonshiners Often Hide in Canoe, Dry Agent Says.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The grip of prohibition is being felt by Japanese residents of Hawaii, who, according to reports to Federal Prohibition headquarters, are being deprived of their national drink of sake through the activity of prohibition enforcement agents. "Agents are devoting a great deal of their time raiding the manufacture of the Japanese liquor known as sake," said John F. Colburn, Hawaiian director, reporting recent seizures of sake and utensils used in its manufacture. A story of searchlight expeditions against moonshiners in Hawaiian sugar plantations also was told by the territorial enforcement agent, who said that sake makers and other moonshiners had been driven from the cities into the cane fields near the workmen's camps. "It takes a lot of work to locate them," the report said, "and sometimes we labor until the early hours of the morning, using spot lights in finding our way out through the cane."

What About the Rockefeller "Spooning" Inquiry?

The Post-Dispatch has received several letters of protest against the sending out of questionnaires by the Bureau of Social Hygiene of New York to women asking personal questions regarding their courtship days. This bureau was established by John D. Rockefeller Jr. Readers of the Women's Page are invited to discuss this interesting question in these columns. All letters should be brief and written on one side of the paper only.

Agrees With "Happily Married"

To the Editor of the Women's Page:
I am on the same side of the question as "Happily Married" is. I think that if John D. Rockefeller Jr. and a lot of other rich "bugs" would mind their own business, they would have enough to do without digging up things that do not concern them. Instead of wasting money on such foolishness, John D. Jr. had better be paying those poor slaves of working men a living wage. But he is the type that will sit up all night figuring out how to cut these men's wages and get them to work for less, and then turn around and spend millions on such foolishness as this, or something that does not benefit anyone. My husband and I have been married for quite a number of years, and what he did before we were married does not interest me nor what I did interest him. We get along fine, and he says he never goes anywhere where he is ashamed to take me to know. I accord him the same treatment. And he always allows me the same privileges he takes.

I am sure there would be less divorce cases if some other people, especially those in John D.'s class, followed these rules. You do not hear of as many divorces among the poor people as you do among the rich, the reason being that both men and women in the latter class like to run around and have a good time too well. And when a man that likes a nice home marries he generally gets a wife who is never at home and vice versa.

A HAPPILY MARRIED COUPLE.

Acting Natural

To the Editor of the Women's Page:
Just a few words in answer to the letter of "Happily Married," which appeared on the Women's Page April 9.

"Happily Married" stated that men are fools and big babies, and do not understand the ways of girls at all. Perhaps she feared that if the men found out their wives spooned before they were married there would be a lot of trouble.

But "Happily Married" does not realize that all men are not foolish and that neither are all women. Any broadminded man who understands human nature even a little bit will realize that it is only natural for young people to spoon before they are married, and that if he spooned before he was married, the girl had a right to spoon also.

I do not think the Bureau of Social Hygiene has any selfish motive in mailing these questionnaires to women. I believe rather that the questionnaires will furnish statistical data valuable in the work of social hygiene.

It will prove that all the outcry against the flapper is unjust. Everywhere the cry is heard that home life is in danger because the flappers are resorting to spooning and "weak morals." But the questionnaires that have been answered disclose that the majority of women spooned before marriage, and that the "good girls" of grandmother's time spooned just as much as our present day flappers. This shows clearly how false is the belief that our flappers are incapable of creating a good, sound home life. If "Happily Married" and the others who believe as she does would realize that all men are not fools there would be more successful courtships. There are some girls who think men must be fooled and that there is a certain form of cleverness to be applied by the girl trying to win a lover. The girls do not act natural, and the fellows become disgusted.

Remember that most men understand the ways of girls. Act natural. J. M. GOLDSTEIN.

Views of an "Old Maid"

To the Editor of the Women's Page:
With the greatest amusement I read about the panic the Rockefeller spooning questionnaire has caused, and in answer to "The Views of a Husband," I would say that it is not safe, after all, to question the "old maids" and the widows.

I am an "old maid," 47 years old, and the opposite sex always left me perfectly cold. But I do not seem to leave them cold. If I told some of the wives about the times I have had to make bunnies remember their marriage vows, there would be a stampede toward the divorce courts. And I am not the only "old maid" who could tell on a husband.

But, rest easy, wife. The "old maid" will answer the questionnaire, if she gets one, in five words—"Mind your own d— business."

OLD MAID.

The Girl in the Corner Apartment

By May Christie.

(Copyright, 1923, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

LXXXIII.—HAPPINESS AGAIN

THE CHARACTERS.
CYNTHIA BRANT, country girl, living in a New York apartment she has inherited from an old lady she once befriended.

RUBY ALLISON, her gay and frivolous friend.

ALEC KERR, Ruby's fiance.

QUENTIN GRAY, an artist friend of Ruby's.

AUNT ELLEN, who keeps house for Cynthia.

MURRAY STEWART, for whom Cynthia is working as a stenographer.

MRS. WAKELAND, friend and rich client of Stewart's, who takes a fancy to Cynthia.

VIOLET JERROLD, friend of Murray's.

It was a very pleasant drawing room, with its bowls of flowers in every corner, its excellent pictures, and its pretty chintzes. Cynthia snuggled down with a book in a deep armchair beside the small wood fire that was crackling pleasantly upon the tiled hearth.

But she could not concentrate. Her thoughts, willfully, kept drifting to the man who—down below in Mrs. Wakeland's "den"—was talking business matters over with her hostess.

Of course he wouldn't come upstairs after the interview was over. He would quietly slip away, only too glad to avoid a meeting with her.

Cynthia stared unhappy into the crackling flames. What a queer life it was after all! How disappointing!

A hungry heart! Was she fated to go through life with that? Well, after all, the average mortal did expect nothing else.

And nothing better.

An hour slipped by. Cynthia was wrapped in pessimistic thoughts.

She did not hear the drawing room door open, nor the tread of someone on the thick pile carpet. It was only when Murray Stewart stood before her that she realized he was actually in the room.

"How do you do? Where is Mrs. Wakeland?" She rose up at once.

"She'll be up in a little while."

He took the girl's hand, and—holding it tightly in his own—looked into her dark eyes. "I'm glad of an opportunity to be alone with you, because I have an apology to make, if you'll allow me."

She did not answer, but the quick blood surged up in her usually pale cheeks, tingling them to a wild rose color.

"Cynthia, I've been a fool. A jealous idiot. Oh, I can't explain the why's and wherefore's! But I see now that it all started with someone's hint."

"Violet Jerrold!" darted through Cynthia's mind.

"It started with someone's hints. I was a brute to listen, and I didn't mean to, but you know how it is when one is in love—at least I fervently hope you do—because I can't rest now until I win you, darling! Honestly I can't!"

He grabbed her other hand, and drew her closer to him.

"At the ball that night, little things upset me, like that Cyril chap hanging on to you for all he was worth, and the fact that you and he came home in the other car together, when you ought to have been with me. No, don't interrupt, darling. I know it wasn't your fault, but men in love are illogical, jealous asses, and I'm one of them, so do forgive me! Naturally the chap was attracted to you. All men must be."

His eyes were shining, and he was almost incoherent in his eagerness.

She had announced her intention. Margaret Wakeland implored her not to leave the house.

"You'll stay the night with me! Please do, my dear. I feel so unstrung and so harassed. And today has been so very painful—such an ordeal!"

Cynthia couldn't possibly refuse, in the circumstances.

"I'll lend you all the night things you need. Just sit in the drawing room with a book, and I'll have coffee sent up to you there. Whenever my talk with Murray Stewart is over, I'll come up."

Mrs. Wakeland looked appealingly at her, and she gave in.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Johnny Chuck's Feelings

By Thornton W. Burgess

Pity one who can but wait
In helplessness approaching fate.

—Johnny Chuck.

JOHNNY CHUCK'S first feeling when he was safely up in that tree and looked down at Bowser the Hound was one of relief mingled with triumph. Bowser couldn't get him, and he knew it. He could afford to grin down at Bowser. He tingled all over with the joy of having actually climbed a tree. More than once he had thought he could climb if he really tried, but until now he had never known positively that he could. But after a while the persistent barking of Bowser got on Johnny's nerves. Then when Sammy Jay and Blacky the Crow discovered him and added their voices to the racket that Bowser was making Johnny began to grow anxious.
He understood perfectly that, though he was safe from Bowser, he was at the same time a prisoner. So long as Bowser was at the foot of that tree he must remain a prisoner. He couldn't leave, no matter how much he wanted to.

Now, Johnny Chuck is rather a retiring person. He doesn't like too much attention. He wants to be where he can get out of sight when he feels like it. Perched up in a tree as he was, he was altogether too plainly in sight. So his feeling of triumph and relief gave way to a feeling of worry, and this feeling grew with every passing minute. Now and then he looked anxiously this way and that way, to see if all that noise was attracting the attention of others. So it was that he discovered Farmer Brown's Boy coming down the Long Lane below Bowser knew anything about it.

Johnny Chuck's heart sank and sank and sank and sank. It seemed to sink a little bit lower with every step Farmer Brown's boy took. For a long time Johnny had looked on Farmer Brown's Boy as a friend. But that was when he, Johnny, was where he could dive down into his home at

So it was that he discovered Farmer
Brown's Boy coming down the Long Lane

the least sign of unfriendliness. Now he must stay right where he was,
and he knew that he would be at the mercy of Farmer Brown's Boy.
Farmer Brown's Boy could climb.

Recipes for Small Cakes

FANCY small cakes to serve with ice cream, cocoa or tea are usually kept on hand where guests are frequent. These cakes may be varied by baking them in rings, diamonds or S shape. Tiny candies, nuts or fruits sprinkled over the top before baking afford further variation.

Macaroons.

Beat white of one egg very light (but not stiff) and gradually add, while constantly beating, one cupful pulverized maple or brown sugar.
Fold in one cup finely chopped pecan nuts sprinkled with a little salt. The batter should not be too soft as the drops will scatter too flat. Drop quickly from one end of spoon on papered pans and bake in moderate oven only until a delicate brown.

Chocolate Cookies.

Cream one-half cup of butter with one cup sugar; add beaten yolks of two eggs, then the beaten whites, one-half cup flour, two tablespoonfuls powdered or two squares melted chocolate and one cup chopped nut meats. Mix well and turn into small greased tins. Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven.

Peanut Wafers.

Cream two tablespoonfuls of butter with one-half cup sugar, add one beaten egg, one and a half cupfuls chopped peanuts and two cupfuls graham flour sifted with two tea-spoonfuls baking powder and one teaspoon salt; add milk if necessary.
Roll thin and cut into any desired shape.

Almond Cakes.

Cream one-fourth cup of butter with one cup sugar, add beaten yolks of two eggs, one-half cup milk, one and three-fourths cupfuls flour sifted with one teaspoon baking powder and one-third cup almonds, blanched and finely chopped. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Drop in well greased baking tins, leaving ample space for spreading.

Johnny Chuck had seen him do it more than once.

Nearer and nearer drew Farmer Brown's Boy, and Johnny shook more and more with fright. The worst of it was there wasn't a thing he could do about it. He must stay right where he was. Perhaps you can guess how he hoped that Farmer Brown's Boy wouldn't look up in that tree.
That was a foolish hope. Of course, Farmer Brown's Boy was bound to look up in that tree because Bowser himself was looking up in that tree all the time and making it perfectly plain that there was someone up there.

"I guess this is the end," thought Johnny, mournfully, as Farmer Brown's Boy stopped at the foot of the tree and looked up. If he hadn't been so badly frightened he would have had to grin at the look of surprise on Farmer Brown's Boy's face when he discovered who it was that was up in that tree. But Johnny was too frightened to grin. Yes, sir, he was too frightened to do anything like that. Never had he felt so helpless. He couldn't run; he couldn't fight; he couldn't do a thing.

Then Farmer Brown's Boy spoke, and somehow the very tones of that voice made Johnny Chuck feel a wee bit better. A tiny bit of hope sprang up in the heart of Johnny Chuck. It grew as Farmer Brown's Boy made no attempt to do anything to him.
Then as Farmer Brown's Boy turned and started away, taking Bowser with him, Johnny Chuck's heart almost burst with gladness and thankfulness.

SOLID MULDOON.

I'm monarch of all I survey
And I'm a surveyor de luxe;
My dictates the scrappers obey
Before they can put up their dukes.
For I am the Monarch of Madison Square,
And fighters who cross me had better beware.

In boxing I'm cock of the walk,
And managers shake when I cough;
I never take any back talk,
And tell 'em just where to get off.
I set the amount that they ought to be paid
For managing fighters of every grade.

The matches I've got to approve
Before I will let them proceed;
Promoters cannot make a move
Until I have fully agreed.
Whenever two guys are unevenly matched,
Right off of my list they are instantly scratched.

I'm monarch of all I survey,
And issue my royal decree;
The czar in his palmist day
Had little or nothing on me.
The box fighters know I'll take none of their lip,
And jump through a hoop at the crack of my whip.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB.

STYLISH LANGUAGE, INDEED!

PERSONALLY I can vouch for the authenticity of this one. It happened in the town where I was born and reared.

For years, a certain worthy and highly intelligent old colored woman did our family washing. She almost was a member of the household. One Saturday night after she had fetched the week's laundry, she sat in the kitchen of our home favoring her feet before she started on her return trip to her own house, a mile and a half away. My mother came to the kitchen door to chat with her a little while.

From remarks which the old woman let fall, my mother gathered that Aunt Nilly, although very devout, did not seem to care deeply for the present pastor of her church.

"Mis' Manie," said Aunt Nilly, "I'm goin' to tell you how I put that there biggy preachin' man in his place. Yere yistiddy evening 'jest fo' supper time, I wuz settin' on my front porch when the Rev'n Rogers come along by. He sees me settin' there an' he stops an' fumble with the gate latch an' he sez to me he sez, 'Sis' Carter, I would have speech with thee!' Jest lak that."

"Now, Mis' Manie, I ain't aimin' to let no nigger whatsoever, even of he is a minister of the gospel, use no' stylish language 'en what I kin. So I sez right back to him, I sez, 'Rev'n, draw nigh an' yo' shall be heard!'"

"So he undid the gate an' come on up the walk to my dostep. But no sooner do he start in to speak 'n' I know what 'is he's fixin' to say. He fixin' to ax my sympathy 'on 'count of that tore-down limb of a unmarried daughter of his'n havin' got herse' mixed up in a scandalizin' an' bein' tarbed about all over the neighborhood. So, jest soon ez I sees what he's drivin' at I thows up my right hand like this, an' I sez to him, I sez:—

"'Rev'n, I sez, 'hold! Yere last fall, I sez, 'w'en my husband, Isiah Carter, at the age of 74, w'en he should a knowed better, wuz mokin' 'bis set' kind of promiscuous hangin' round two of the lady members of the congregation, an' I went to you, I sez, 'an' axed you, as the pastor, to 'mostrate wid him, what did you do? Jest because he'r done give you 'ic fur the new organ fund, you tole me to shet up my black mouth an' go on home an' 'tend to my own business."

"'Rev'n, I sez, 'ez ye sows, so shall ye reap: Rev'n, pass on!'"

GENERAL POLICE ORDER SENT OUT FOR ARREST OF ROSS IN BANK CASE

Action Taken at Request of Circuit Attorney Sidener—
No Indication of Surrender Which, Attorneys Intimated, Would Be When Bond Was Arranged.

MILLSAUGH DUE TO RETURN TOMORROW

Finance Commissioner Expected to Push Audit of Night and Day Accounts in Which Shortage Was Found.

A general police order was sent out today for the arrest of Donald W. Ross, 21 years old, who was special deputy State finance commissioner for the liquidation of the Night and Day Bank, until a shortage of $75,279 or more was found in the liquidation accounts last week.

Detectives sought Ross in his apartment at Harlan Court, 4511 Delmar boulevard, early last Sunday morning, when Circuit Attorney Sidener ordered his arrest, but returned their search thereafter when attorneys intimated Ross would surrender as soon as the $25,000 bond demanded of him was arranged.

Nothing further to indicate intended surrender has been given to the Circuit Attorney for several days and Chief of Police O'Brien's general order today was at Circuit Attorney Sidener's request.

State Finance Commissioner Millsaugh, who has been in Washington on other business of his office, is due to arrive in St. Louis tomorrow and has said he will push the audit of the bank's liquidation accounts to a detailed conclusion. When he announced the $75,279 shortage last Saturday, he said the audit was incomplete and the discrepancy likely would be found to be even greater.

It is thought the return of Commissioner Millsaugh will prod Ross' intention to surrender, if he has that intention, to action. It is speculated in some quarters that Ross, known to have relatives of wealth, would have little difficulty in providing a $25,000 bond and that his tardiness in surrender is due to an effort to arrange the liquidation accounts to meet combat any charge that might be brought against him.

Former Assistant Circuit Attorney William Baer, who made the inquiry concerning Ross' bond, said he had not seen Ross, but "understood" he would be produced. Baer thought the amount of the bond high, but Circuit Judge Falkenhainer held otherwise and the amount has not been changed.

Professional bondsmen have been approached in the matter of a bond for Ross and have indicated that they will require a deposit of negotiable securities in the sum of the bond before they will serve him.

MAHO PROGRESSIVES NOT READY TO PUT FORD ON THEIR BALLOT

State Chairman Says Auto Manufacturer Must First Make Himself Clear on Some of Their Planks.

BOISE, Idaho, April 11.—Frank L. Johnson, Idaho State chairman of the Progressive party, last night issued a denial of a report from Mahan Wednesday night that he would file petitions tomorrow requesting that the name of Henry Ford be entered on the primary ballot in Idaho.

"We will not nominate Ford until he has made himself clear on certain planks of our platform," he asserted.

Johnson coupled his denial with statement that petitions had been received to county party leaders in the State "booming" Ford and that some of them had been returned with 6000 signatures. Many county party leaders, he said, are supporters of Ford.

PERSONS REPORTED DROWNED

ATLANTA, Ga., April 11.—The ship of Balise (British Honduras), and 21 other passengers, were reported to have been drowned when a motor boat capsized in the Gulf of Mexico, near the mouth of the Mississippi River, last night. The ship was carrying a load of lumber and other goods. Fifty other persons are reported to have been saved.
